IN THE BEE TO-DAY

WEATHER.

The local official forecast for to-day is showers; slight change in temperature. For to-morrow, rain, clearing cooler.

Observer Hagen says: "The 'low' referred to Saturday is now central in Kansas and Nebraska. Moderate rains have fallen in its path. Threatening and rainy weather prevails from Dakota to New England, and clear weather in the extreme northwest and the southern states. The lowest temperature in the northwest is 10 degrees above zero. No cold weather need be expected for several days, although there will be a small drop to about freezing Wednesday morning. The highest temperature yesterday was 51 degrees. The lowest this morning was 40 degrees.

Forecast for western New York—Showers; slight changes in temperature; winds shifting to southeasterly.

For Ohio—Threatening weather and light rain; generally warmer; southerly winds.

For Indiana and Illinois—Threatening weather with rain; warm, southerly winds, shifting to westerly; colder and clearing Tuesday.

For Michigan—Threatening weather with rain or snow; southeasterly winds; slight changes in temperature, except colder in extreme northern portion.

For Wisconsin—Threatening weather with rain or snow; easterly winds becoming variable; slightly colder Tuesday.

Arrested—the progress of Consumption. In all it's earlier stages, it can be cured. It's a scrofulous affection of the lungs—a blood taint—and, as in every other form of scrofula, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a certain remedy. But it must be taken in time—and now is the time to take it.

It purifies the blood—that's the secret. Nothing else acts like it. It's the most potent strength-restorer, blood-cleanser, and flesh-builder known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, and all lingering Coughs, it's a remedy that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure.

If it doesn't, the money is returned.

In other words, it's sold on trial.

No other medicine of its kind is.

And that proves that nothing else is "just as good" as the "Discovery."

SPRINGER TO LEAD

He Will be Chairman of the Ways and Means.

Policy of the Congress on the Tariff Question

To Strike at the Root of Protection's Evils.

A Number of Necessities to be Put on the Free List.

Mills Will Not Accept a Subordinate Position on the Committee and Will Probably Put All His Energy Into the Senatorial Contest.

New York, Dec. 14.—A special to the World from Washington says Roger Q. Mills will not be appointed chairman of the committee on ways and means.

By his own acts he has made the appointment practically impossible from the standpoint of Speaker Crisp.

Wm. M. Springer will be named for the position, by virtue of which he will become leader of the house. A difference of opinion as to the policy of the party is the chief cause, but the sulkiness of Mr. Mills since his defeat for the speakership, has helped Mr. Crisp to come to this decision.

Mr. Mills insists that the first duty of the party is to place itself upon record as opposed to the McKinley bill as a whole, and in favor of another measure as distinct as the one which bore his name in 1888.

Speaker Crisp's objection to this plan is that it would bring relief to nobody. The party would only succeed in placing itself on record at best. Speaker Crisp's idea of the true policy of the party is to introduce and pass either one short, compact bill, or several very brief measures of whose meaning there can be no possible doubt; strike at the root of the question by putting wool, salt, binding twine and a few other articles which are designated as raw material upon the free list and stop there, leaving no room for misapprehension or misconstruction.

Such a bill could be passed in a few weeks by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. Springer, whom Speaker Crisp has chosen for the position on the ways and means committee, is the most conspicuous northern democrat in the house, and is in thorough accord with Mr. Crisp's views.

The speaker anticipates with perfect equanimity a charge that the appointment of Mr. Springer will be only a consummation of a bargain by which he was nominated, but he looks upon this as one of the purely personal considerations which ought not to influence his judgment in striving for the welfare of the party.

Mr. Mills' course cannot be foretold. It is not possible that he will accept a subordinate position on the committee of which he was once chairman. He may even resign, and stake all upon his canvass for the senatorship.

Mr. Springer in an interview yesterday said a general revision of the tariff at this session was impracticable if not impolitic. His views coincide with those of Speaker Crisp, and he advocates putting wool, binding twine, cotton ties, salt, lumber, iron ore and coal upon the free list. The great need of our industries, he says, is free raw material.

The articles enumerated, he contends, should be put in one compact bill, or they should be put in a number of brief measures which can be speedily acted upon.

INDIAN TREATIES.

Omaha, Dec. 14.—J. B. Woodruff, of Wyoming, was here yesterday en route to Washington with a minority report on the proposed treaty with the Shoshone and Arapahoe Indians. Mr. Woodruff alleges that the treaty formed by the majority means the spending of $600,000 for worthless land.

BETTER TACKLE NEW YORK

Medina, N. Y., Dec. 14.—A large meeting was held here last night to begin a movement in this country urging the senate to take action on the Berlin treaty respecting the prohibition of the slave and rum traffic in the Congo free state. This is the first public meeting held in this country on the subject.

THE GOVERNOR'S STAFF.

Col. Bonner, of Toledo, Has Been Honored.

Maumee Valley Statesmen Flock to the Bedside of the Chief Executive to Present Their Claims for Office.

Canton, O., Dec. 14.—At a late hour Saturday afternoon the following appointments were made public by Governor-elect McKinley, through Private Secretary Boyle:

Quartermaster-General—James Botsford, of Youngstown.

Judge Advocate-General—John C. Entrekin, of Chillicothe.

Aids—Charles M. Fleishman, of Cincinnati; Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland; Harry C. Sherrard, of Steubenville; W. C. Brown, of Fostoria; J. C. Bonner, of Toledo; John N. Taylor, of East Liverpool, and R. L. Nye, of Marietta.

Governor-elect McKinley was confined to his bed Saturday, his physicans giving imperative orders this morning that he should for no reason be disturbed. Thus it came about that Private Secretary Boyle, who has been here for several days, has received the hosts of visitors from abroad, listened to their pleas or protests, as the case might be, and received such papers for his chief as his visitors had. And they were many.

About the first delegation to visit the rooms was one from Toledo, consist-Postmaster James M. Brown, W. H. Tucker, Herman Baumbach and William Kirkby, the latter a candidate for the office of commissioner of railroads and telegraphs.

The visit was in the interest of Mr. Kirkby. Hardly had they left the rooms before E. B. King and L. W. Hull, of Sandusky, entered and immediately began to demonstrate the availability of a Mr. Stone, of that city, for the position of assistant adjutant-general. They were given a close and long hearing, and the voluminous documents of indorsements carefully handled by Secretary Boyle.

There is a decided snarl in the adjutant-generalship. It looked like Pocock up to Thursday. Now, with Pocock out, it looks like any man's race. Colonel Pocock was in the city Thursday and had a long conference with the governor-elect. He left Friday morning.

Attorney-General Watson arrived in the city about the same time Pocock did, and the delay in making the appointment is thought to have been caused by him. He is an avowed anti-Pocock man. He left the city Friday evening, appearing well satisfied with things in general.

THE HOP CROP.

The Yield Larger as Compared with Last Year.

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 14.—The hop crop of 1891 is finally computed by the New England Homestead to be 243,308 bales, grown on 51,945 acres, compared with 204,849 bales on 48,962 acres last year and 217,618 bales produced in 1889 on 50,212 acres.

The new crop aggregates 20,500,000 pounds in New York state and about half this quantity in Washington, 7,000,000 pounds in California and 4,762,000 pounds in Oregon, a very considerable increase over last year.

The Wisconsin crop is practically a failure—only 198,000 pounds on 944 acres, compared with nearly 500,000 pounds last year and 2,000,000 pounds grown in 1889 on 4,500 acres.

Two-thirds of the new crop is already in second hands, having been sold at an average of 16 1-2 cents per pound to date, against 30 cents for the last crop and 10 cents for the production of 1889.

The Homestead's reports confirm the earlier intimation of the foreign shortage.

On the basis of sales to date the 1891 crop in the United States will bring growers $7,162,000, against $11,105,000 for the smaller yield last year and $4,080,000 for the crop of 1889.

BURNED HIS BONES.

Vengeance on the Remains of a Wholesale Murderer.

Shreveport, La., Dec. 14.—Joe Patterson, the negro who yesterday killed his wife and a negro man in Bossier parish, and afterwards shot J. B. Lay and Dave Wallace, nominee-elect to the state legislature, was run down so close by a mob that he returned to his home, putting to flight the mourners who were sitting up with his wife's corpse. Patterson then blew out his own brains with the revolver that he had created so much havoc with.

The mob gathered around the house shortly afterward, numbering over 100 men, black and white, removed the body of the murdered woman and set fire to the house. It was burned to the ground, and Patterson's charred remains lie amidst the ruins.

MAINE NOT BIG ENOUGH.

Speaker Reed Will Try to Run the Empire State.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Ex-Speaker Reed confirms the report telegraphed over the country a few weeks ago that he has had serious intentions of quitting political life and settling down in New York city for the practice of law.

He says he is only deterred from carrying this idea into effect by the fact that he has known so many men who have attained to high official positions and then abandoned politics for the law or business only to repent very soon of the change and again seek to enter political life.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 14.—William Rousee and Jennie McBride were burned to death in Hampshire county early Friday morning. They had been at a dance and on their way home built a fire in the woods. The girl's clothing ignited and she was burned to death. Rousee tried to extinguish the flames and in so doing his clothing also ignited. He was so badly burn that he died within a few hours.

NO DOUBT OF HIS IDENTITY

Henry L. Norcross Was the Dynamiter.

A Note Found on His Desk Explains All.

His Mother Says He Was Insane and That He Died a Martyr for the Good of Society.

Boston, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Norcross, mother of the bomb thrower, said yesterday that a letter had been found on her son's desk on Saturday. She would not divulge the full contents of the note, but stated that it removed all doubts from her mind and that of her husband, that might have remained, as to the identity of the bomb thrower.

She gave the opening sentence of the note which makes certain that Henry L. Norcross was the man who dropped the bag of dynamite in the office of Russell Sage.

The sentence was: "I go to New York to-day to get $1,200,000. If I do not succeed I shall kill myself." As to the rest of the letter it may be inferred from a subsequent sentence which fell from the mother's lips. "He was insane," she said, "and made a martyr of himself in the interest of his inventions and of the good of society."

Mrs. and Mrs. Norcross will go to New York in a day or two to claim the remains of their son. It is believed the remains will be cremated, as Henry Norcross expressed a desire to that effect in case he should die before his parents.

GOVERNORS RESIGN.

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 14.—The governors of the states of Rio Janeiro and San Paulo, who were appointed by Fonseca, have resigned. The troops of the insurgents in Rio Grande do Sul have laid down their arms and disbanded.

HILL NEEDS NO BODY GUARD

Not at all Alarmed by the Army of Cranks.

Republican Papers Circulate Reports About the Senator That Are Made Out of Whole Cloth.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 14.—A story published in a republican newspaper that, since the attacks upon Russell Sage and Edward Murphy, Gov. Hill had surrounded himself with private detectives, who keep close watch upon him at the capitol and the executive mansion and follow him about, caused a great deal of surprise here. Not the least surprised man was the governor himself.

Gov. Hill was cosily ensconced in a big chair in his study at the executive mansion when a correspondent found him. The night watchman was strolling about on the terrace in front of the mansion, and Duke, the governor's grand mastiff, was playing about the grounds.

"The first intimation I had that I was surrounded by a guard," said the governor, "I received from the newspapers. Now, that man outside there has been watching these grounds for the last seven years, and I guess he has been just about as conspicuous one year as another. As for my being followed from here to the capitol, I have no knowledge of anything of the kind, and in the capitol the arrangements regarding visitors are the same now as they always have been."

The first story told about the governor's body guard contained an intimation that he lacked physical courage. Those who know the governor are familiar with a scar on his neck, but few know how he received it.

When he was practicing law in Elmira some years ago a crank called on him in his office, and without warning threw himself upon Mr. Hill and plunged a knife into his neck. Mr. Hill knocked him down, took the weapon from him and held him until officers arrived.

WILL NOT GO TO WAR.

No More Blood Shed on the Border.

The Pamir Incident Will be Peaceably Settled.

A Chinese, Russian and British Commission Will be Appointed to Straighten Out the Troublesome Questions.

London, Dec. 14.—Dispatches from Calcutta say there has been considerable fighting near Gilgit, on the Pamir frontier, but that the engagements have been of a desultory character. The tribesmen have taken to the hills and all pursuit has been stopped for the present.

There has been no further loss of life among the British and the wounded are doing well.

Considerable activity is manifest in certain government offices here, particularly in the Indian office; but it is anticipated that no further steps will be taken until the Marquis of Lansdowne, the governor-general of India, has forwarded to England his report of the Fort Nilt incident.

The report will be based not only upon Col. Durand's report of the recent engagement, and as to the causes which led to it; but upon Col. Durand's previous reports, of October and November last, bearing upon the same subject and in which, it is understood, some such incident as the one which has just again brought the eastern question to the front was anticipated.

The outcome of it all, it is semi-officially stated to-day, will be that a joint Chinese, Russian and British commission will be appointed to consider the whole Pamir question and that advantage will be taken of the appointment of this commission to settle other important frontier questions which have long been a source of anxiety to all parties concerned.

WORDS THAT BURN.

Colonel Waldorf's Arraignment of the Blade.

Charges of Dishonesty Repudiated and the Writer Denounced as a Double Dealer.

Revenue Collector Waldorf, speaking with a Bee this morning on the editorial in Saturday's Blade reflecting on his (Waldorf's) integrity and his position generally as a politician, expressed his opinion somewhat warmly.

"Have you anything to say relative to the charges made, Colonel?" he was asked.

"I have no response to make to that labored editorial of the Blade's, except to contradict most emphatically the assertion that I ever directly or indirectly deceived an old soldier into indorsing me for the collectorship. There is not a particle of truth in the assertion. The article as a whole is made up of misrepresentations supported not by facts but by glittering generalities and its trend is in keeping with the traitorous tactics of the Blade during the whole of this senatorial contest. If the writer of the article is, as I am led to believe, Mr. Stephen Bolles, I would say that he is the last one to question the integrity or honesty of any man. Prior to the senatorial convention in this district Mr. Bolles, desiring the nomination for state senator, endeavored as strenuously as he knew how, to secure the support of Sherman's friends by not only promising to support Sherman but was willing to give the strongest pledge a man could give that he would work and vote for Sherman's re-election. This I know to be a fact. His well-known affiliations with and obligations to those leading a bitter warfare against John Sherman made such assertions seem ridiculous, and were not entertained by Sherman's friends here.

FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Annual Meeting in Session To-Day.

What the Reports of the Officers Show.

A Prosperous Organization—The Knights of Labor Proposition—Much Work to be Done.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 14.—The annual meeting of the American Federation of Labor, the first ever held south, was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning at Erswell hall by President Samuel Gompers. Nearly two hundred delegates from every part of the United States and Canada are in attendance.

The meeting will occupy the entire week. A fund has been raised by the local labor men and merchants of the city for the entertainment of the visitors and near the close of the convention a grand banquet will be tendered to the delegates at the Florence hotel.

A feature of the meeting will be a number of excursions given by the railroads to mines, furnaces and other industries in this vicinity.

The executive committee arrived here several days ago to audit all accounts and prepare their annual reports which were submitted to-day.

One of the important matters to come up will be the question of the recognition of working cards between the Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor, as suggested by the latter. While there are no matters of paramount importance to come before the convention much work will be done.

Secretary Chris Evans presented his annual financial report. In doing so, he said: "The work of the past year has developed many things that will serve to educate and help to formulate legislation for the wage-earners. That mistakes have been made no one will question, but in the discussions that will arise during the proceedings of our present annual gathering, let our motto be legislation for the relief of the masses as against the selfish greed of the few; let the knowledge we have gained by bitter experience act as a guide for us in the future to avoid as much as possible a repetition of the errors of the past.

"The trades union movement is doing a noble work in the line of reform. We are not making as rapid progress as we should. We are reducing the misery and degradation of the wage-earning class, however, (the statement to the contrary notwithstanding). Let us move onward. Press our claims for justice to the wealth producers, and follow the lines marked out by the trades unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and success is ours."

The report proceeded to state that during the term ending October 31, 1891, 246 charters had been issued to unions in 30 states, as follows: Arkansas, 5; Connecticut, 2; Colorado, 4; District of Columbia, 2; Georgia, 2; Illinois, 18; Indiana, 25; Iowa, 2; Kansas, 2; Kentucky, 2; Louisiana, 3; Massachusetts, 8; Michigan, 21; Missouri, 6; Minnesota, 4; Mississippi, 7; Maine, 2; Montana, 1; New York, 28; New Jersey, 3; New Mexico, 3; Ohio, 55; Pennsylvania, 16; Rhode Island, 1; Tennessee, 4; Texas, 1; Virginia, 2; Wisconsin, 8; Washington, 5; West Virginia, 3. Charters had also been granted to 10 national unions, making a total of 256 during the year.

The financial exhibit showed that the receipts of the year had been $21,346, and the total expenditure $13,190, leaving a balance of $8,156. Of the total expenditures nearly $2,500 represented loans and donations to organizations on strike. The statement of expenditures was rendered notable by the item showing that the total outlay for salaries on account of an organization, with hundreds of branches and a membership of three-quarters of a million, was but the paltry sum of $4,200. The comparative summary showed that four years ago the total receipts of the organization were but $2,000 for the entire year. During the past year a loan of $3,500 had been made to the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of Pittsburg, Pa., to aid them in their strike, and it has since been repaid in full. Two thousand dollars have also been loaned to the United Mine Workers of America, to aid the Iowa striking miners. The convention will be asked to make the loan a donation.

DISASTERS ON THE SEAS

Many Ocean Boats Have Been Wrecked

And Their Crews Drowned in the Roaring Waves.

Gallant But Futile Efforts of the Fishing Smack Briton's Pride to Rescue the Crew of the Stranded Ship Enterkin.

London, Dec. 14.—The list of disasters to shipping, caused by the most recent of the many severe storms which have swept over the British Isles this year continues to receive additions almost hourly.

To give a complete list of these maritime casualties would be an expensive and practically useless task, as no American craft appears to have suffered.

The only exception, so far as known, to this rule, is in the case of the ship Enterkin, Capt. Sinclair, 1,614 tons, which left Portland, Oregon, April 19 for Hull, where she arrived on September 27. After discharging her cargo and reloading with iron, the Enterkin sailed, a few days ago, for Brisbane, Queensland, Australia.

During the gale of Saturday night the Enterkin was driven ashore on the Galloper sands, in the North sea, and will most likely become a total loss, while, so far as known, all her crew, 31 hands, with the exception of one apprentice, have been drowned.

The Enterkin was sighted on Sunday morning by the fishing smack Briton's Pride, belonging to Ramsgate. The Briton's Pride, in face of the terrible gale blowing, and though she was frequently swept from stem to stern, plunging repeatedly through heavy green seas which threatened to engulf her, for hours made a series of the most gallant efforts to reach the doomed Enterkin in the hope of being able to save some of her crew.

A few of the latter, the skipper of the Britons Pride afterwards reported, could at first be seen clinging to the damaged masts and yards of the ill fated vessel, but, one by one, they seemed to grow weak and numb and were swept from their places of refuge in the rigging, and soon disappeared beneath the raging seas sweeping to leeward of the Enterkin.

At last, it seemed to the gallant fishermen who manned the Briton's Pride that the last of the Enterkin's crew had been washed overboard to his death, and the little smack was on the point of wearing ship for safer waters, when one of the fishermen insisted that he could see a moving object in the tottering mizzen-mast of the wrecked ship.

When the skipper of the Briton's Pride was convinced that this was an actual fact, he renewed his efforts to bring his small craft under the lee of the Enterkin.

After another long and disheartening struggle, during which the brave fishermen were times out of number drenched to the skin until they could hardly move from cold and exhaustion, the Briton's Pride was cleverly brought to under the lee of the stranded vessel, and while huge waves pounded her until every plank and beam in her composition worked, the fishermen rescued a poor lad named Lewis, an apprentice, who was found more than half dead, lashed to the rigging of the mizzen-mast.

Lewis, this morning, was safely landed at Ramsgate by the sturdy crew. The lucky apprentice and the brave fishermen are the lions of the hour.

Robbed by a Tug.

Another incident worth mentioning in connection with the shipping disasters was the escape of a French steamer, Le Nord, after having been placed under an embargo.

From the meagre accounts of the affair received here, it appears that a small tug belonging to the Island of Guernsey, found a steamer, Le Nord, disabled, in the channel.

The skipper of the tug, after considerable parleying with the commander of the larger craft, towed the latter to Guernsey, where the tug's owners claimed the sum of $50,000 as salvage.

Le Nord's captain said that no salvage was due as he was not disabled and had simply bargained to be towed into Guernsey while his repairs were in progress. The owners of the tug, however, persisted in their demand and caused an embargo to be placed upon Le Nord pending a trial and decision in regard to the conflicting claims by the admiralty court or its representatives.

The captain of Le Nord acquiesced, under protest, to this arrangement; but during the following night he got up steam, unmoored and put to sea, carrying with him the court officers placed on board. These officers, never dreaming that the captain of Le Nord would dare to kidnap them, were in their bunks, sleeping away the fatigues of the previous day and blissfully anticipating a considerable period of pleasure while the salvage claim dragged its way through the courts.

THE KIPTON WRECK.

First of the Suits Against the Lake Shore in Lucas County.

In common pleas court to-day Curtis E. Starkey filed action against the Lake Shore railroad company to recover $20,000 damages for personal injury sustained in the Kipton wreck, which occurred on the Lake Shore, April 13, 1891.

The plaintiff in his petition alleges that train No. 14 was scheduled by the company to arrive at Kipton at 4:49 p. m., and that the company was careless in thus scheduling these two passenger trains to pass only three minutes apart.

The petition further alleges that the company is liable for requiring the telegraph operater at Kipton to attend to certain duties outside of the office at the time of the arrival of these trains, instead of devoting his whole time at his instrument. It is further charged that the company was negligent and should be held responsible in this matter for leaving an abandoned water tank near the track to obstruct the view of the approach of trains.

The plaintiff states that realizing the impossibility to avoid a collision, he jumped from the engine which was moving at the rate of 50 miles per hour, sustaining injuries that will cripple him for life.

MRS. GRANT'S VOICE

Raised Against the Removal of the General's Remains.

She Would Have Them Rest in Peace,

But She Says She Cannot Fight Congress and if the People Desire the Change She Will Have to Submit.

New York, Dec. 14.—A reporter interviewed Mrs. Julia Dent-Grant, widow of the "Old Commander," on the subject of removing her husband's remains to Washington. Mrs. Grant is reported as saying:

"I had hoped that I should hear no more about it. It distresses me very much."

The widow of the great hero passed her hands across her eyes and after a moment continued: "I buried my husband here because I wanted him near me. I wanted him where I could go to him. My children are near me here. Jesse, my son, lives with me. My son Ulysses lives at Salem Center, Westchester county, from whence he can come to me readily. He and his children are with me to-day.

"I am growing old. It's not easy for me to change my residence at command. I cannot fight a whole congress. My husband was a public man and I have been schooled to feel that he belonged to the public. Perhaps the public is entitled to him, even against me. If a majority of the people want him removed—I suppose they will do it. I cannot help myself."

There was something indescribably pathetic in the way Mrs. Grant expressed her helplessness. Then she resumed almost passionately: "Why do they do it? Washington lies at Mount Vernon, and they have built a great monument to him at the capital. Why can't they let the general rest where I laid him?

"They are building a splendid monument over the general's tomb at Riverside. Recently they removed him to that mausoleum, where I had hoped he would rest forever. Do you think the public wants him removed to Washington? I am only his wife, one woman. I can't fight against them all."

The Grant Monument association has already $162,000 in hand toward the erection of the Riverside mausoleum, seven-eighths of which was subscribed by New Yorkers. Already $47,000 has been expended in building the foundations of the mausoleum. Should the remains of Gen. Grant be removed to Washington lawsuits would surely follow by the subscribers for a return of their money. A few weeks ago the tomb of Grant was removed to the pedestal which was intended for its final resting place.

"It is extremely distressing to her and her family," says Gen. Collis, "and in questionable taste, this annual agitation and these periodical efforts to change the location of the grave. The mausoleum will be completed by the time of the opening of the world's fair I believe. This annual agitation is one of the forces against which we have had to labor in getting subscriptions to the monument fund."

A JEALOUS FIEND'S DEED.

Killed His Wife Because She Wouldn't Murder.

An Awful Story of Crime Comes From the South—A Posse After the Murderer.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 14.—More complete details from Tutnall county concerning the murder near Reedsville, show it to have been one of the most horrible murders ever committed in that section.

The victim was the wife of James Freeman, a prosperous farmer, living a few miles from Reedsville. Freeman was of an intensely jealous disposition and had several times quarreled with his wife over slight friendly attentions paid to her by a neighbor named Kennedy.

Finally his jealous rage led to the tragedy. Soon after dusk, night before last, arming himself with a Winchester rifle, Freeman announced to his wife that he was goin to make her kill Kennedy.

Taking a rope, he tied it around her body and dragged her through the woods and along the road until within a few feet of the house of the man whose life he desired her to take. Then he forced a pistol into the hands of the almost unconscious woman, threatening her with instant death if she did not enter the house and shoot Kennedy. She refused.

By some means Kennedy had become aware of the presence of Freeman and of his intention, but did not know his wife was with him. Throwing the woman to the ground, Freeman walked toward the house himself. Kennedy, who had been on the watch, opened fire on him. Freeman went back to where his wife lay, seizing the rope dragged her from the yard into the road. In a few seconds Kennedy heard the sound of Freeman's rifle.

After leaving Kennedy's home Freeman had forced his wife a few hundred yards and cursing her for not obeying his orders to kill Kennedy, he took deliberate aim and, despite the prayers of his wife for mercy, sent a bullet through her heart, killing her instantly.

The body lay in the road until the next morning, it was then found and an alarm was raised. Freeman had disappeared. A search was at once begun, and if caught the county will probably be saved the expense of a trial.

CHILI HAS A BACK BONE.

Egan Has Been Fooling President Harrison.

The Leading Newspaper of the Country Says There Will be a Peaceful Settlement When all the Facts Are Known.

Santiago, Dec. 14.—El Ferrocarril, the leading daily newspaper of this city, says in its editorial columns that it supports Minister Matta in deprecating the tone of President Harrison's message and ascribes it to exaggerated data which, the editor claims, was forwarded to Washington.

He goes on to say that he feels confident that the people and the government of the United States will alter their ideas on the subject when all the facts become fully known.

Capt. Schley, upon the intercession of Judge of Crimes Foster, released the two Baltimore seamen, McWilliams and Painter, from imprisonment aboard that vessel. These men disgraced the service recently by appearing in an intoxicated condition at the investigation in progress before Senor Foster regarding the Valparaiso outrage on their fellow men of warsmen.

Peculiar

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Blaine Don't Care to be Defeated Again

And Will Not Take the Republican Nomination.

The Secretary of State to Write a Letter in a Few Days Declaring That He Does Not Propose to Pull the Chestnuts Out of the Fire.

Washington, Dec. 14.—There is a revival to-day of gossip concerning the relations of President Harrison and Secretary of State Blaine. Republican politicians of eminence in their party declare that Mr. Blaine has written a letter declining to be a candidate for president.

They say that the president and Secretary Blaine held a lengthy conference over the matter, and they feel sure that the secretary succeeded in showing the president that he would not be a candidate for the republican nomination at Minneapolis next June, and in future would be completely out of the contest under any circumstances.

Several of the gossips even go to the length of declaring that Mr. Blaine's letter of declination would abound in loyal pro-Harrison sentiments and practically take anybody else except Harrison out of the contest. It is stated that Blaine has placed his ideas in the form of a letter, and that it will make its appearance in public before the New Year.

It is stated that Mr. Blaine made this announcement directly to one of his most ardent friends in the house of representatives.

What Mr. Blaine will say in the letter is now the chief inquiry here. Will he be as equivocal as Gov. Hill is on the silver question? Will he write a letter which, while seeming to take himself out of Harrison's way, will make all the boys shout for him louder than ever? Mr. Blaine has done such things before.

Harrison is convinced that Blaine is doing nothing to promote his own nomination next year, and that Blaine will make way for him at the proper time. This explains why there is so little friction between them.

Harrison realizes, too, that Blaine is doing him a great service in keeping all the other possible candidates out of the field. Not a word about nominating Alger of Michigan or any other new man has been heard for months past.

Everbody admits that it is going to be either Blaine or Harrison, and that it is not going to be Blaine. He has very good reasons for his serenity.

Mr. Clarkson's announcement in the west that President Harrison will be renominated has attracted less attention here than might have been expected. Not only does it imply that Mr. Clarkson is cognizant of an arrangement between Mr. Harrison and Mr. Blaine which takes Mr. Blaine out of the president's way, but there is more behind it. Mr. Clarkson is said to be much nearer realizing his ambition to be a member of the president's cabinet than ever before.

There are fresh indications that Mr. Noble is to leave the interior department and receive an important judicial appointment during the coming year. It is expected that before the presidential campaign really opens Mr. Clarkson will be the secretary of the interior and that the republican campaign will then be managed practically within the walls of the white house.

Justice Bradley is not likely to remain on the supreme bench another season, and if Mr. Cleveland should be the democratic candidate Justice Field would also certainly go, for his animosity toward the ex-president is too keen for him to give Mr. Cleveland the opportunity to name his successor.

There may be no change until the end of spring, but it may come earlier. It is understood that Mr. Harrison would like to promote two members of his cabinet to the supreme bench, the attorney-general and the secretary of the interior. Both are anxious to get there and they are likely to be successful in their ambition.

BESSIE SAVED THE DAY.

A New York Girl Who Could Hustle.

It Took Her Just Thirty Minutes to Get Ready to Cross the Ocean on an Important Mission.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 14.—James G. Clark, of this city, discovered a short time ago that he needed the proxies of some English stockholders in a corporation whose annual meeting occurs in a western city this week.

He decided that the quickest and surest way would be to send a messenger to England, and proposed to send one of his office clerks. The five men in the office at the time hesitated, whereupon Miss Bessie Johnson, his stenographer, offered to go.

There was just an hour in which to make preparations, but in half an hour Miss Johnson was on the way to the depot and a few hours later she was aboard a steamship. The vessel sailed on November 25 and reached Liverpool on December 2.

At Liverpool Miss Johnson learned that the fast boat on which she expected to sail on the 9th had been taken off and that a slow ten-day boat had been substituted. This would not land her in New York before the 19th and that would be too late. Her only alternative was to perform her mission in time to sail on the 5th.

From Liverpool Miss Johnson had to go to Edinburgh, London, Exeter, and back to Liverpool. This meant to travel 1,000 miles by rail in less than three days, see several business people and explain the purpose for which Mr. Clark desired their proxies. It seemed almost impossible, but Miss Johnson accomplished it, and a cablegram to Mr. Clark brought him the information that Miss Johnson had secured all the desired proxies and sailed with them on the Servia, which is due to arrive in New York to-day.

Egan Charging Refugees a Hundred Dollars a Day.

The United States Asylum is Proving an Expensive Luxury for the Unfortunate Chilian Refugees.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The gravest charges against Minister Egan concerning his treatment of the Chilian refugees now at the American legation at Santiago have been made in a press dispatch from that city to La Prensa, the leading paper of Buenos Ayres.

It is stated that the refugees are engaged in making plans to leave the American legation by night and to escape over the Andes into Argentine territory.

This step is being taken in consequence of the extortionate charges alleged to have been made by Minister Egan for the protection afforded by the asylum of the American legation.

It is charged that Don Eduardo Matte, who, it is reported, has made his escape, paid the sum of $4,000 for the time he was at the legation under the protection of the American flag. Those refugees now in Mr. Egan's household are said to pay $100 daily.

Nothing is known of the charges at the state department here and none of the officials would discuss them.

There is every prospect that as soon as the committees of the house are organized a resolution to investigate the conduct of Minister Egan in all its bearings will be introduced and a call be made upon the state department for the Chilian correspondence which the president promises in his annual message.

About Second-Class Rates.

James M. Hall, general passenger agent of the W. & L. E., has returned from Chicago, where he had been attending a mass meeting of general passenger agents of lines within the Central Traffic association territory.

The matter of abandoning second class passenger rates was taken up and discussed. A committee consisting of the representatives of the following lines was appointed to devise some means whereby rates could be equalized to harmonize in all parts of the territory: Erie, B. & O., Pennsylvania, L. S. & M. S., Big Four, O. & M., and Nickle Plate. The committee will report at another meeting of passenger agents to be held in New York city, to-day.

Will Be Promoted.

Albert S. White, assistant general freight agent of the Big Four, is to become general freight agent on January 1, and R. P. Buchanan will succeed Mr. White as assistant general freight agent on the same line.

Elected Officers.

Mr. C. F. Wight, commercial agent of the B. & O. in this city, returned from Pittsburg yesterday afternoon, where he had been attending a meeting of the division freight agents held in the office of C. S. Wight, general freight agent.

A CHAMBER OF HORRORS.

The apartment to which the unhappy wretch is confined by inflammatory rheumatism is indeed a chamber of horrors. Appalling are the tortures inflicted by this agonizing complaint, and those endured by persons suffering from milder forms of it are severe enough. Obstinate as it is in its mature development, it is surely remediable at the outset with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an infinitely safer as well as more effective remedy than the poisons often used to subdue it. Always should it be borne in mind by those seeking relief from rheumatism, that though conquerable in the incipient stage, it is not only stubborn but dangerous when fully developed, on account of its tendency to attack the vital parts. This consideration should lead to the early adoption of curative measures. The Bitters will overcome malarial, kidney, dyspeptic and bilious troubles.

This move on the part of the company has raised a storm of indignation among the consumers who think the rates at present were high enough. A number threaten to give up the use of natue's fuel.

Dwelling Burned.

A two story tenement house over in the Swing addition belonging to Street Preacher Clemens, was burned to the ground at an early hour on Sunday morning. It was occupied by two families who barely had time to get out their families and part of their household effects. The loss was about $1,000. No insurance. The owner owns a large amount of property, but does not think it pays to carry insurance.

"Better Kept the Farm."

Sheriff Bartoon, of Findlay, has closed the grocery and feed store on North Main street, owned by Flavius Dewease, at Rawson, on executions to the amount of $700. The executions were held by the Farmers' and City banks. A few years ago Mr. Dewease owned one of the largest farms in Orange township. In some manner it got away from him. He is now bankrupt.

The Last Sad Rites.

The obsequies of Mrs. William Ward, nee Miss Gertrude Jones, who resided at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was held from the family residence on East Sandusky street yesterday afternoon, and was very largely attended by the friends of the family. Rev. J. R. Mitchell conducted the ceremonies in a very impressive manner. The remains were placed in the chapel at Maple Grove.

Special Election.

The county board of election held a meeting in this city to-day to arrange for a special election in the Second ward of Fostoria, that portion of the city being in this county. Three sets of tickets have to be printed, one set for each county. This will make it quite expensive.

Married.

William H. Harmon of this city was united in marriage yesterday to Miss Mary E., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dickey, prosperous citizens residing near Dupont, Putnam county. The young couple will settle down to the stern realities of life in a cozy little home in this city.

Resigned.

Willis Metzler, a well-known postal clerk with a run on the Wabash and headquarters in Toledo, has resigned his position.

Elevator Burned.

The old L. E. & W. elevator, situated near the passenger station of the above road, was very badly damaged by fire between 10 and 11 o'clock on Saturday night. The firemen worked hard and finally controlled the flames. The building and machinery, valued at $12,000, belongs to Judge G. W. Myers, who had just recently taken hold of it. But little grain was in it at the time. The loss will amount to several thousand dollars, fully covered by insurance. It is not known yet whether the building will be rebuilt. The fire started in the engine room in a mysterious manner.

Great Wrestling Match.

The much-talked-of event, the great wrestling match between Mike Sullivan of Lima and Tom Davis of this city, took place at Davis' opera house on Saturday evening, before a fair-sized audience of the local sporting fraternity, besides a number of friends and admirers from North Baltimore and the surrounding towns.

Sullivan got the first two falls in a very short time and was declared the winner of the purse of $250. Sullivan was by far the better man and had no trouble in winning. He offers to wrestle with any man in the state of equal weight for any sized purse.

IT IS DEDICATED.

The New Oliver Street Baptist Church.

Appropriate Services Yesterday Afternoon and Evening—Most of the Debt Raised—Large Attendance.

After a struggle extending over a score of years, the congregation of the Oliver Baptist church now owns a place of worship of its own.

The new church, a beautiful structure, located on the corner of Segur avenue and Carroll street, was formerly dedicated yesterday afternoon.

Rev. B. K. Ormond invoked the divine blessing, after which the dedication sermon was delivered by Rev. W. H. Sloan, pastor of the First Baptist church, which was interesting throughout.

Mr. Charles T. Lewis followed with a pleasing address. He recalled the construction of Solomon's temple, calling particular attention to the difficulties, and seemingly insurmountable obstacles which confronted these people in the consummation of that great task. They gave willingly and unstintedly of the worldly goods which the Lord had given them, that the temple might be completed.

Mr. Lewis then stated that the building cost $15,600, and that the amount had been all paid except $750, which would be due March 1st, and he wanted to raise that amount before the services were closed. He said that one $25 pledge had been made and eight more were wanted. Anybody in the audience who would be responsible for the payment of $25 before March 1st should make the fact known. Six $25 contributions were obtained. Those willing to give $10 were next called upon. Then $5 contributions were sought, and in this manner about $500 were raised in an hour.

This work occupied so much time that the services were closed and the prayer of dedication was deferred until the evening services, when it was made by Rev. J. B. Schaff.

The evening services were conducted by Rev. E. E. Williams.

The capacious auditorium of the church was well filled in the afternoon, there being present a number of Baptist pastors as well as pastors and members of other churches. Rev. J. H. Bethards, pastor of the Broadway M. E. church, pronounced the benediction, closing the afternoon services.

Rev. William Sheridan, the pastor of the new church, came to Toledo in 1871, and in that time has gathered about him the splendid congregation of this church. He is an earnest and untiring worker and is beloved by all who know him.

The members of the church and congregation deserve great credit for their self-sacrificing and successful efforts.

ROCHESTER LABOR TROUBLE

A Lively Meeting Held Last Night.

The Knights of Labor Divided on the Outcome of the Recent Clothing Cutters' Strike.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 14.—A meeting of clothing workers was held in Germania hall Sunday, the call for which stated the purpose to be to take action upon certain statements made by Grand Lecturer James A. Wright, of the Knights of Labor, at Indianapolis and other places in regard to the clothing manufacturers of this city and their relations with their employes.

Some of Wright's statements were that there were 1,300 clothing workers out of employment at Rochester, and that manufacturers were paying starvation wages. The call for the meeting was issued by a committee of the present employes of the clothing manufacturers, who left the Knights of Labor at the time of the trouble last spring, in order to retain their places.

But the Knights of Labor responded more generally than the present employes, and numbered five to one in the hall, which holds 1,500 people, and was packed to the doors when the meeting was called to order.

The present employes had control of the organization, but the knights, amid much excitement and disorder, reorganized the meeting while a committee of their opponents were in retirement conferring on a set of resolutions to be submitted to the meeting. After quiet had been partially restored the knights adopted a series of resolutions wherein they sanctioned and upheld the statements made by Wright, and pledging moral and financial support to the Knights of Labor.

The resolutions which the present employes intended to adopt denounced Wright as an agitator, adventurer and demagogue; declared his statements as absolutely false, and concluded as follows:

"The Rochester clothing manufacturers were entirely justified in the course taken by them and are entitled to the applause of all clothing employes of Rochester for having rid themselves of a band of organized tyrants and the birds of prey in control of National Trades assembly 231."

While the excitement was at the highest word was sent to the police station that a riot was in progress at Germania hall and the police captain ordered a lieutenant with a detail of police to the hall and four or five detectives were also sent down to quell the disturbance. Their arrival was welcomed with delight Chairman Hart and his party, though not so favorably by the others. At this juncture one of the knights' leaders requested that the meeting be allowed to proceed. The roll-call contained over three hundred names, but the vote stood 14 ayes to 4 nays. The meeting was then dispersed by the police.

ADVISED TO GO SLOW.

London, Dec. 14.—The Times in an editorial to-day makes an earnest appeal to the people of New Foundland to think twice before they allow themselves to precipitate a conflict with the imperial government.

The Times in this connection remarks that New Foundlanders have much to lose and hardly anything to gain by such a conflict.

FAILURE ANNOUNCED.

New York, Dec. 14.—Frederick Paulsen, commission merchant at 19 Old Slip, assigned to-day to Henry Ware Jones with a preference of $1,340 to Emma Hadker & Co.

FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Congress May Loan Five Million Dollars.

It Will be Guaranteed by the Receipts and the Proposition Meets With Favor.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Members of congress from Illinois are much interested in the world's fair appropriation on account of the action of the board of control in deciding to ask for an appriation of $5,000,000 instead of a loan of that amount as at first proposed.

Mr. Springer, in speaking of that probable treatment of the fair by congress, said: "I think that there is not any good reason to expect this congress to make an appropriation of the amount specified, for this congress will be quite chary in its expenditures. Nor do I understand that a regular appropriation will be asked.

"Congress will, however, I am confident, make a loan to the board of that amount, for, guaranteed as it will be by the receipts, which will aggregate three times the amount asked, there will be no failure on the part of the government to have it repaid.

"Congress in this way advanced a million and a half to the centennial, and I know of no reason why for the world's fair, which will be immeasurably larger, the sum asked should not receive the same generous treatment."

LARGE OIL WELL.

Saturday the Pluto Oil company brought in a 250-barrel oil well on the Bruner farm at Cygnet. It is one of the largest struck lately in that locality.

THE CITY GETS A GASSER.

Saturday another city gas well came in, and it is said to be quite a gasser. There are now in process of drilling six wells, almost all of which promise to come in gassers.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE ELKS.

A meeting of the Elks has been called by the seretary at Byron Ritchie's office, Law building, this evening at 8 o'clock, to take action on the death of Col. Billings.

SUES FOR $10,000.

In common pleas court to-day Oren Demminger sued the C., H. & D. railway company to recover $10,000 damages for personal injury. In his petition Demminger states that he was a switchman in the C., H. & D. yards, and, September 25, had an arm crushed while making a coupling.

DEDICATING THE CROSS.

Yesterday was dedicated the cross of the new St. Hedwig's Polish church, at the corner of Lagrange and Dexter streets.

All the Polish societies participated in the celebration, and over 2,000 people were present.

To-day the cross was placed on the bower.

EX-PRISONERS OF WAR.

The Toledo Association Union Ex-Prisoners of War, met yesterday afternoon and informally discussed matters pertaining to the society, and appointed a committee to make arrangements for the annual meeting and entertainment to be held January 7. This committee consists of Messrs. Henry Weitzel, William Adelsperger and J. W. Chilcott.

THE LAKE SHORE SUED.

Oliver R. Wilcox, administrator of the estate of Anson H. Wilcox, sued the Lake Shore Railway company in common pleas court to-day to recover $10,000 damages for the death of his intestate The deceased was employed by the company as switchman in the yards at this point. On August 24, 1891, a train backed into a train on which Wilcox was standing, and he was precipitated between two cars and killed.

ONE ON THE WHEELING.

Joseph Herron established proceedings in common pleas court to-day against the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad company to recover $20,000 damages for injury sustained in a collision on that road at Norwalk, May 1, 1891. Herron was a fireman on a passenger run out of Toledo, which train collided with a freight train at Norwalk, and he claims to have sustained injuries which resulted in permanent disability.

ENTRIES ON COURT DOCKET.

The following were the only entries of any consequence made on the court docket in common pleas court to-day:

Henry H. Modewell vs. Frank T. Downey et al., default.

Andrew J. Le Dean vs. Charles B. Clark, settled.

John H. Kohn vs. Charles M. Schiely, settled.

Elsie Lewis vs. Manert Lewis, divorce, granted.

Sophia Morris vs. Jesse Morris, divorce, granted.

A LUCKY RUNAWAY.

Saturday evening about 9:30, Contractor M. S. Johnson was driving a spirited horse on Madison street, attached to a two-seated carriage occupied by himself, wife and two children. At the corner of Madison and Superior streets the horse took fright and ran at a terrific rate of speed down Madison. In front of Cushing's real estate office the vehicle collided with a bicycle. The horse was stopped, but the buggy was badly demolished. Fortunately no one was injured.

A COLLEGE PAPER.

The students of Brown university (Providence, R. I.), emulating Harvard, Cornell, and Yale, have started a daily college paper, "The Brown Daily Herald." The paper is bright and well fitted for the sphere it proposes to occupy. Its existence bespeaks the enterprise of the managers. The journalistic aspirations of our youthful contemporary are to be heartily commended, and hope is expressed that it may not fail of merited success. On the staff of the paper is a brother of Mr. Curtis T. Johnson, of this city.

LATEST FAD OF THE KIDS.

As fads are broadcast over the land just at the present time, the small boy indulges in his share. The latest fad for the juveniles is to build club houses, or shanties, as they call them, of lumber, fence boards, etc., which they in their own language "sneak." Some of the "clubs" are quite elaborate, but it has been intimated that card playing and suspicious looking bottles are to be found within, and it is thought by many that the apparently innocent pastime should be abolished.

NEW POLISH PAPER.

A bright, breezy new Polish paper made its appearance Saturday. M. Bryeczka, J. Kina and William Walkowski are the owners. The latter is editor, and a young Toledoan, born and educated here, who reflects credit on the mother country. It proposes advocating the rights of all, and more particularly those of the Polish citizens of Toledo. It seems to be an assured success already, as it starts out with a subscription list of about 2,000. It is published every Saturday from the office, 2747 Lagrange street. The Bee wishes the "Kurjer" success.

AN OLD LAKE CAPTAIN GONE.

A telegram was received in the city yesterday announcing the death of Capt. J. C. Estes, at the advanced age of 68 years. The captain has been suffering for some time with rheumatism and went to Glenwood Springs, Col., in the hope of securing relief. He grew worse, however, and died at the Springs. Capt. Estes has been a familiar figure at all lake ports for half a century, his home being at Sandusky. The captain leaves three daughters to mourn his loss, Mrs. F. E. Vanhoesen of Toledo and Mrs. George B. Drake and Mrs. George S. Ball of Sandusky. The funeral will occur at Sandusky as soon as the remains arrive. Mr. and Mrs. Vanhoesen went to Sandusky last evening.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The thirty-third convention of the Lucas County Sunday School association will be held to-morrow afternoon and Wednesday at the Monroe street M. E. church. The devotional exercises will open at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. G. H. Priddy. After the disposal of routine business, Prof. M. H. Davis will give a paper on The Life of Christ, followed by reports of county work. In the evening a song service will be conducted by W. J. Perman, and next on the program is a normal lesson, the Holy Land, by Superintendent Marion Lawrance. At 8:30 Rev. D. M. Fisk will speak on "The Cradle of the Nation." An equally strong list of attractions is provided for Wednesday, and all interested in Sunday school work are cordially invited to be present at all of the sessions.

CALLED HOME.

Last Friday morning at 10 o'clock there passed from this life into the unfathomable Beyond, the soul of Mrs. Sylvia Lybarger. Only five months a bride and for this brief time a resident of Toledo, she had, by her sweetness of disposition and loveliness of character, won many devoted friends. Her maiden name was Lockhart and her home was near Danville, Ohio, where her parents reside. Mr. Lybarger is agent for the Domestic Sewing Machine company in this city, and the young couple were ideally happy in their life together. The bereaved husband has heartfelt sympathy in his great sorrow. Mrs. Lybarger was fond of flowers to an unusual degree, and in remembrance of this, her casket was covered with these tributes of affection. Only twenty-two years old, of sunny temperament, she was full of anticipation for the life before her. Her brief illness of only two weeks makes the shock the more sudden and hearts the more unreconciled. Her disease was pronounced quick consumption and from the first development seemed to defy all remedies. Brief services were held yesterday morning at their late boarding home on Lafayette street and the body was taken to Buckeye City for the funeral and burial.

"There fell upon the house a sudden gloom,
A shadow on the dear face white and thin.
And softly from the hushed and darkened room
Two angels passed where only one went in."

ODD FELLOW OFFICIALS.

Private returns received from nearly 600 lodges of the Odd Fellows in Ohio give the following result on grand officers for the coming year:

Grand Master—Walter W. Bowen, Sandusky, 3,459; B. S. Dryfus, Zanesville, 2,572.

Deputy Grand Master—Milo S. Clapp, Warren, 3,825; Cornelius De Ruiter, Cincinnati, 2,178.

Grand Warden—James R. Arnold, Dayton, 1,199; A. C. Bachtel, Akron, 1,101; John M. Brodrick, Marysville, 2,706; George W. Carey, Lebanon, 630; Wolcott Chaffee, Garrettsville, 228; C. H. Leaman, Dayton, 250; John H. Wolfe, Elmore, 520.

Grand Representative—Mathew Bartlett, Toledo, 2,408; J. Rufus Miles, Mt. Gilead, 3,569.

THE LETTER-CARRIERS.

At the regular meeting of the Letter-Carriers' association, held Saturday night, the following officers were elected:

President—A. M. Clemons.
Vice President—J. M. Fox.
Treasurer—Edward Langel.
Corresponding Secretary—H. C. Dwight.
Financial Secretary—A. M. Coombs.
Trustees—I. Kelly, Otto Meisner, Wm. M. Wegner.

Several communications were read and acted upon, the most important of which was one on life insurance and the supporting of the committee in endeavoring to secure the enactment of laws on the subject. It was decided to give a ball on February 22, Washington's birthday, and committees to make the necessary arrangements were appointed.

COL. BILLINGSLEA

Has Joined the Great Silent Majority,

After Several Weeks of Suffering—Sketch of a Busy Life Spent in Toledo and Elsewhere.

The many friends of Col. A. M. F. Billingslea will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred at his residence, 939 Superior street, about 11:30 last night. For several weeks Col. Billingslea has been very low with inflammatory rheumatism, but his death came as a shock, for during the last week it was thought that he was better.

Last summer Mr. Billingslea went west for his health, and spent some time at Hot Springs, Arkansas. Afterwards he went to Omaha to attend to business, and while there was stricken with rheumatism. It was a rather strange coincidence that on the same day, Sunday, five other people in the same hotel were taken down with a like disease, and 50 new cases of rheumatism were reported in the city that day. As soon as possible Mr. Billingslea was brought home, and he was never able to rise from his bed.

Col. A. M. F. Billingslea.

Col. Billingslea has been a resident of Toledo only a few years, but in that time he has been prominent in business circles, and he was vice-president, secretary and general manager of the Ketcham Furniture company.

The following brief biographical sketch is taken from the Bee souvenir: Col. Billingslea was born in Marion county, Va., on August 14, 1854, and although his education was attained under great difficulties, he was granted a teacher's certificate and taught school before he was 15. This he continued for two years, devoting his vacations and nights to scientific and mechanical studies, also studying law at this time. He speedily developed an aptitude for the business in which he made such success, and became connected with several leading manufacturing and building enterprises. On May 12, 1878, he was married to Miss Anna Kathmann, of Baltimore; they have three children, Joseph, Loyola and Willie. Early in 1880 Mr. Billingslea removed to Denver, Col., and while there designed and superintended some of the finest interior furnishings of the Denver of that time. Returning to the east in 1881, Mr. Billingslea accepted the management of the Maryland Office Furniture and Show Case Works at Baltimore, resigning that position in July, 1882, to take the superintendency of Messrs. Whitehurst & Owen's large manufactory at Richmond, Va. While there he designed and had erected the model buildings of that firm, and assisted in founding the Virginia Mechanic Institute and the School of Technology, becoming principal of the latter. Early in Mr. Cleveland's administration, he accepted the position of head of the furniture department at Washington, which he filled with marked ability and to the enriching of his comprehensive and thorough business and mechanical ability. In the campaign of 1888 he took an active and prominent part, being an ardent democrat, and on the defeat of his party, was one of the first to tender his resignation, to take effect on February 7, 1889. He then came to Toledo and on the ensuing August, organized and assumed the management of the Ketcham Furniture Co., and whose phenomenal success is a deserved tribute to his comprehensive ability and excellent management.

Last spring he was also honored by an appointment from Gov. Campbell as one of Ohio's commissioners for the World's Fair.

BISHOP HORSTMANN

Succeeds Bishop Gilmour in the Cleveland Diocese.

A Graduate of the Public Schools, He Has a Brilliant Record as a Scholar and Cleric.

The Philadelphia Times of Saturday has the following relative to the appointment of Rev. Dr. Horstmann as bishop of the Catholic diocese of Cleveland:

Official notice was received yesterday at the archiepiscopal residence, on Eighteenth street, from Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati, of the appointment of Rev. Dr. Ignatius F. Horstmann as chancellor of the archdiocese of Philadelphia, as Bishop of Cleveland, to succeed the late Bishop Gilmour, who died in Florida some time ago, whither he had gone for his health.

Dr. Horstmann has long been a conspicuous figure in the church in this city and has often been mentioned in connection with an episcopal appointment. He was for a long time pastor of old St. Mary's, on Fourth street, and has been chancellor under Archbishop Ryan. He is a man of commanding presence, austere and very dignified, and is very much esteemed, not only by those of his own communion, but by leading citizens of other denominations.

He is a native of Philadelphia and a graduate of the Central High school, from which institution he graduated with one of the highest, if not the highest averages that any student ever attained.

Dr. Horstmann, when seen at the archiepiscopal residence, on Eighteenth street, last evening, beyond saying that he had received information of his appointment as bishop of Cleveland, was averse to speaking further on the subject, so the time of his consecration and his leaving for his new charge could not be ascertained.

Numerous telegrams of congratulation poured in on the newly-chosen prelate during the afternoon and evening, and many friends, both clerical and lay, called to express their joy at his elevation.

The New Bishop.

Rev. Dr. Horstman, chancellor of the archdiocese of Philadelphia, was born in this city about fifty years ago and has been over twenty-five years in the priesthood. After graduating from the High school he was among the first students to enter the preparatory seminary at Glen Riddle, where his virtue and talents attracted the attention of his superiors, who sent him to finish his theological studies at the propaganda in Rome. After passing through a most brilliant course there he was ordained on June 10, 1865.

On his arrival home he was appointed as professor of St. Charles' seminary, a position which he filled until 1878, when he was appointed pastor of St. Mary's church, this city, where he endeared himself to the congregation. In the fall of 1885 he was made chancellor of the archdiocese of Philadelphia, a position which he has filled ever since. He is president of the American Catholic Historical society, president of the Tabernacle society, chaplain of the Catholic club and is also a member of several other societies.

Rev. Dr. Horstmann is above the ordinary height, with a commanding appearance, and is regarded as one of the greatest theologians in America. He is an eloquent and forcible speaker and is noted for his liberality toward charitable institutions. He celebrated his silver jubilee June, 1890, and was the recipient of many handsome presents. A purse which had been presented to him on that occasion, amounting to several thousand dollars, he donated to St. Vincent's Home for Children.

A special from Philadelphia says:

From an early hour until nearly midnight the archepiscopal residence was crowded with clergymen congratulating the bishop-elect. Archbishop Ryan arrived home from St. Louis, where he had been attending the jubilee of Archbishop Kendrick. When informed that his faithful chancellor had been promoted to the bishopric of Cleveland he expressed surprise and said that it was the first he had heard of it.

He immediately went to Dr. Horstmann's room, where he heartily congratulated him on his promotion and wished him all success and blessings in his new office. The archbishop spoke in the highest terms of Dr. Horstmann's reputation and declared him to be a true type of the model priest. The Venerable Monsignor Cantwell called on the bishop-elect early in the morning and warmly congratulated him on his promotion.

Among the other callers were Rev. Dr. Kilrain, Rev. Father Barry, Rev. Father Sinnott, Rev. Pendergrast, Rev. Walter Gough, Rev. Dr. Laughlin, James A. Flaherty, president of the Young Men's union and a number of others.

During the day numerous telegrams were received from archbishops, bishops and clergymen, the presidents of Catholic societies, and also a number of telegrams were received from non-Catholics who have been stanch friends of the well-known clergymen.

A number of clergymen who were seen, in speaking of the promotion of Dr. Horstmann expressed their regrets that so able a man is about to be transferred from the archdiocese of Philadelphia. They also declared that Dr. Hortsmann has most ably filled the office of chancellor and stated that it would be difficult to find a man that would so efficiently be able to carry on his work. No arrangements have been made as yet for the consecration of the bishop-elect, but it is stated that the ceremony will take place at the cathedral where the priest has spent so many years of his ministry. Many of the clubs and societies of which he has been an officer or member are contemplating about giving him a farewell reception previous to his departure from Philadelphia.

Some Doubt Expressed.

Some doubt is expressed regarding the announcement of the appointment of Rev. Dr. Hortsmann as Catholic bishop of this Diocese. Yesterday Rev. Dr. Quigley referred to the fact that the consistory at which a bishop would be chosen would meet in Rome to-day, and that the name selected would probably not be known before Friday. The reverend gentleman intimated in a general way that the diocese would probably be subdivided, thus making Toledo a diocesan seat.

TRIED TO END HIS LIFE.

Fitzgerald Has Attempted Self Destruction.

The Youngstown Murderer Took a Dose of Morphine Last Night—Saved by the Doctors.

Columbus, O., Dec. 14.—W. E. Fitzgerald, who is to be hanged Friday morning of this week, attempted to commit suicide last night in the annex at the penitentiary, but the fact was not made public until this morning.

Fitzgerald, in some very mysterious manner, got hold of some morphine and took an overdose.

The prison physicians worked all night with him, and it is thought he will recover.

A short session is the talk in Washington, but talk will likely make a long session. It usually does.

Sunday was not a day of rest for the politicians. The senatorial battle raged and Brother Griffin drove a few pegs.

The new bishop of the Cleveland diocese is a graduate of the public schools. His averages in studies were the highest ever obtained in the Philadelphia schools.

Mrs. Grant objects to removing the body of her husband from Riverside. Her wish ought to be respected, and during her life time, at least, talk of removal should cease.

A dispatch describes an encounter in the ring as "a beautiful fight," and then says one of the combatants escaped without a scratch, while the other fellow had one eye knocked out and his face badly cut.

Congratulations to Colonel Bonner, of Gov. McKinley's new staff. It means a brass mounted uniform worth about one hundered and fifty dollars. The uniform will wear out but the military title will last a life time.

Ex-Congressman Yoder, at present sergent-at-arms, should not write so many letters. That was Henry Clay's failing. The effusive offer by letter of the cashiership of his office to a republican relative of Mr. Yoder found its way into print and raised a merry row for a few hours.

The convict banker, Harper of Cincinnati, seems to be doing a land office business from his cell in the penitentiary. He has just been awarded a judgment of $70,000 against a Newport man for mismanagement of his steel and iron works. Harper is a hustler.

That majority of four in the senate, on which the republican party hang their hopes—what about it? The two senators from Montana and the one from New Hampshire were stolen outright and no one pretends to deny it. And it is by virtue of the votes of these that republicans hope to thwart the will of the people as it is expressed through their representatives in congress. Verily the time is ripe for a change in the manner of senatorial elections.

The Blade's zeal in the senatorial contest led it into an editorial attack upon Collector Waldorf on Saturday. Now this is a republican row, and while the Bee can not indorse Mr. Waldorf's politics it ever will defend him from personal assaults. His citizenship in Northwestern Ohio is above reproach and his standing among men of honor is with the best. He is a hard fighter in politics and has so been recognized by democrats of Northwestern Ohio.

Perhaps John Sherman does not fully understand that his opponent is using Gov. McKinley in the senatorial contest. Again, perhaps Mr. Foraker is not doing anything of the kind. Perhaps there is a whopping big lie floating around this section of the state: A. D. Fassett, of Toledo, who wants to be labor commissioner, claims to have a letter from Mr. Foraker positively promising the office to him. There are persons who do not believe the story, but if it be true, then McKinley is being used as a Foraker catspaw. Fassett is one of Foraker's chief workers in the senatorial contest.

Somehow all the good offices of the chief of the pan-American gang aglee. Riot and bloodshed reign in the countries for which arbitration and treaties have been formulated; even the missionaries come under the ban. Now the Hawaiians are crying out against foreign diplomatic interference, the United States included in the count. The natives threaten to revolt "to save their islands from the fate of Samoa." The spectacle of wealthy and Christian nations hovering over the islands of sea, like cormorants, ready to strike their talons into one another, or to gobble up the prey if circumstances make the attempt possible, is not reassuring, when one dreams of the millennium .

Mr. Griffin claims to control Representative Heller's vote for senator, and this ownership is used by Mr. Griffin to make himself solid with the old members. It is shameful how Mr. Griffin uses his colleagues. It was notorious and scandalous the way he kept Mr. Messer in the back ground. His success in that direction the past four years evidently emboldened him to attempt the same game with Flickinger and Heller. Mr. Flickinger quickly resented the imputation that he would be Griffin's tool, but somehow Heller, if one is to judge from appearances, will follow in Mr. Messer's footsteps and do as Griffin requests. Mr. Griffin is a sly coon and never misses an opportunity that will help himself.

By the transfer of a customs house officer from New York to Brooklyn, a great iniquity in the manipulation of customs duties on Italian and French cream cheese comes to light. The tax on the article has not at all stimulated its production in the dairies of New England or the west. It is well protected and the price of the article kept from the "pauper" basis, in this country, but evidently a bounty or subsidy or something more is needed. An investigation of the methods of collecting these duties is only one more count in the long roll of corrupt practices which unwise and unjust tariff regulations invite. According to the evidence before Commissioner Shields the duties are divided between custom-house officers and importers. The government is cheated out of seven thousand dollars or more, and the fee to the weigher, out of this sum, is about eight hundred dollars. These are the facts already brought to light. It is quite enough to burden the people with tax in the name of protection, but when the revenue is diverted into private official pockets, it is time for more emphatic revolt. There is no doubt if one-third of the customs-house iniquity could be known, an exasperated people would tear to flinders the system that makes such robberies possible and easy of accomplishment.

Coals of fire upon the head in dead earnest. Less than a year ago, at a dinner given by the Camp of Confederate Veterans, in New York (a comparatively new organization), their chief said: "When we have finished the monument to Gen. Robert Lee, let it be our duty and pleasure to assist in building the mausoleum for Gen. Grant, and thus express our admiration of his noble and soldierly qualities." The speech was applauded at the time, but New York is accustomed to such talk, signifying nothing beyond an outburst of eloquence that is to die out in the distance and be remembered no more forever, only as some rival city shall recall it. But these magnanimous ex-rebels meant what they said, and about the time the G. A. R. chief, Gen. Palmer, was giving his rebel flag manifesto to the country, they were ploting how to fulfill the promise they had made themselves and each other. There are "Camps of Veterans" in southern cities which will join in the enterprise, and the first grand forward movement to build a monument to the commanders of the Union armies will soon be made by his brave enemies on the battle field. Was ever such honor paid a dead chief? was ever such spectacle presented to the world? The first money-gathering event will be in the nature of a memorial benefit in the largest theater in New York, in which several distinguished actors and actresses have signified willingness to participate. Said Col. Young to the veterans of his camp; "this will prove to the world that we are loyal citizens, with sincere purpose to honor the good man, brave soldier and manly foe—Gen. Grant." It may also silence some of the northern south-haters. Speed the happy enterprise.

A WONDERFUL CHARITY.

One day twenty-five years ago last June a good man, walking the dark streets of darkest London, felt his heart overpowered with the sight of destitute little children and said, "something can be done; something must be done." As a result of that decision there are, to-day, forty-one "Dr. Barnardo's Homes" in London and other cities of the Islands, which have rescued 17,122 boys and girls from poverty, sorrow and crime, and in the majority of cases, made good citizens of those who have lived to maturer years. And in this aggregate, no count is made of the thousands of children aided who have not been admitted to the Homes, the thousands educated in the free schools connected with the work, the thousands fed and clothed and helped in their own poor little places called home; and of the incalculable influence of these Homes and schools, reaching down into habitations of poverty never directly known, and up into the halls of legislation, where juster laws have been enacted in consequence.

Of the seventeen thousand and upwards, mentioned, are two thousand babies, too young to walk, eight thousand lads and lasses under ten years of age, and seven thousand older ones. For the year 1890 the application for admission amounted to 6,378. All these could not be admitted, because all were not absolutely "destitute." The more fortunate ones, if there can be degrees in abject want and poverty, were taken in charge and assisted as seemed best. In all cases thorough investigation is made. These Homes are undenominational and unsectarian; children of all creeds and no creed are admitted, but all religious instruction is Protestant.

An important feature of the system is the emigration scheme in connection with it. There are three institutions in Canada—one for girls in Peterborough, for boys in Toronto and for older youths in Manitoba, organized to receive, care for, and, as rapidly as possible, place in good homes in the country or city as may be, the children sent them.

Dr. Barnardo traveled nearly seventeen thousand miles through Canada last summer, visiting these institutions and in further interest of his work. He gave evidence before the prison commission as to his belief in the efficacy of such care for children in lessening crime among men and women. In connection with the Canadian branch of the work is an Industrial farm 9,000 acres in extent, situated in Manitoba. Here the older-grown are taught farming, and as Canada is rich in lands, and has a homestead law giving upon easy terms 160 acres to every settler who has attained eighteen years of age, the graduation of boys from the industrial farm to farms of their own is a natural sequence.

In connection with the Industrial plan is a colonization scheme, which has been approved by the Minister of Agriculture: A certain number of quarter sections will be selected year by year, on each of which a comfortable house and stable will be built and stock sufficient for a start be given, and each lad assisted to such a homestead will be selected from the former emigrants of the Barnardo Homes, the only conditions being a certificate of good character and $150 saved from his earnings. This sum or more, as the case may be, must be deposited with the manager of the Industrial Farm and the outfit in return will be equal in value to twice that sum at least, and ten years on easy terms will be given for repayment. And in the meantime his maintenance will be provided for until he shall get returns from his crops.

This is a brief outline of the plan of probably the most systematic charity in the world. Thirty-three of the forty-one Homes are in London, and the good they have done in the quarter of a century since their establishment, is incalculable. The Marquis of Lorne is chairman of the regular meetings and the names of distinguished men and women are listed as his supporters. It would seem that, in the matter of investigation as to need in the beginning, and the following of the children through even to the helping of them to homes of their own, the problem of not only relief, but of rescue for the destitute was in fair way of solution.

One Opinion of the Message.

An offensively patronizing air toward foreign governments, a narrow centralizing bias in home politics, and a nauseously self-complacent satisfaction with the exploits of the present administration, are the most striking features of as prosy and platitudinous a message as was ever fired at a community by the chief executive of a great country.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Crisp's Effective Weapon.

It is stated that ex-Speaker Reed remarked that he preferred the election of Mr. Mills as speaker, because he could have Mills throw his gavel at him before the session was well under way. Crisp will employ a better weapon. He will throw a crushing rule at Reed just as soon as the latter recommences his old pranks.—Atlanta Journal.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment—Meetings at Alexis—Notes.

The entertainment given by the East Side Y. M. C. A. at Weber's hall was very enjoyable. The members of the West Side Y. M. C. A. gave a fine gymnastic performance, including their dumbbell drill, German horse, horizontal bars, parallel bars, etc., and the East Side orchestra furnished creditable music. A vocal solo was well rendered by Mr. Christopher Toe, Miss Hattie Consaul playing the piano accompaniment. The entertainment was not as well patronized as it deserved.

The series of meetings held last week in Alexis, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., closed last evening with a meeting in the Congregational church, which was packed to its full capacity, even the aisles being filled with people who stood during the services. Mrs. Wm. Powlesland opened the meeting with a fervent prayer; Mrs. John Curson gave the Scripture reading; Mrs. C. Q. Murphy and Miss Jeanette L. Olmstead talked on "Social Purity," the basis of the remarks of both being the demand for an equal standard of purity for both men and women. This evening a Y association will be organized.

On Saturday evening a suffrage meeting was held in the same church, with a very large attendance. The Alexis ladies will join the Political Equality club in this city. They are having the best of success in getting school suffrage petition signers, not only among women but among the male voters.

The Political Equality club which meets in Fort Industry block held its regular meeting Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Claudia Q. Murphy presided, and read from Prof. Fiske's "Civil Government of the United States" the conclusion of that part relating to the "New England Town Meeting." Discussion was had upon the institution of a "Parliamentary Drill" as a feature of these club meetings, and a committee was appointed to prepare a report upon the same, to be submitted at the next meeting. It was decided to hold the club meetings during the winter at member's houses, and the next meeting, on the afternoon of December 26, will be with Mesdames Quigley and Murphy, 423 Tenth street.

The first Isabella Reading circle of Toledo meets to-morrow afternoon with Mrs. George Lorenz, 1907 Madison street. Paper on The Manners, Customs and Dress of the Upper and Lower Classes in Spain in the Fifteenth Century. Mrs. Susan I. Moore, essayist.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

The story keeps on its rounds that Sam Jones once drove a dray at Atlanta or Cartersville.

The shah of Persia drinks a bottle of brandy a day and hits the pipe like a Race street sybarite.

Baron Fava's elevation to the rank of plenipotentiary of the first class indicates that honors don't go by fava in Italy.

King Oscar, of Sweden, likes to collect autographs, and is particularly pleased when he can come across a good poem which its author has adorned with his name.

Judge of Appeals Francis M. Finch, who has just been elected dean of Cornell university law school, is a republican and author of the pathetic and popular poem entitled "The Blue and the Gray."

Herman Celman, the South American millionaire, owns a $1,000,000 yacht, the Southern Cross, is only 28 years of age and has an income of $500,000 a year. He is the only son of ex-President Celman of the Argentine Republic.

Lord Lytton had a magnificent salary and large allowances, but his dying in poverty only emphasizes the old story that no British ambassador to France can live in Paris, and keep up the dignity of the establishment, unless he has a private income as large as his salary and is willing to spend every cent of it, besides mortgaging his family estates.

John Ruskin will soon complete his 72d year, and for 65 of those years he has been a poet, though for the most part using prose as the vehicle of expression for highly poetic thought. At the age of 7 he wrote in blank verse a singular essay on "Time." The next year he wrote an invocation to the sun to shine on his garden, which is an amusing, almost pathetic, mixture of poetry and pathos. At the age of 20 he gained the Newdigate prize for English poetry, and soon after abandoned the muse because, as he said, he could not express his ideas in verse.

AT THE FIRST CHURCH.

Prof. Fisk Delivers Two Strong Sermons.

The First Congregational church was filled yesterday at both services, and the associate pastor, Rev. D. M. Fisk, preached two excellent sermons. His subject in the morning was "Christ in the Home," from the words, "Where is the flock that was given you, the beautiful flock?" The discourse was mainly to parents, setting forth some of the elements necessary to make home safe for cradle and growing youth. He said the most significant terms of the home were "one heart given to another under the sanctities of an indissoluble love." Christ adds security, inspiration, counsel and benediction. Alluding to the sentimentality and levity of home-founding, he said "Christian courting would seem to most only too good a jest, but why? Why not consult the Christ in that grandest step of life—almost a yielding up of personal identity. If to giddy girlhood had come this honest prayer 'Father of wisdom, guide me, for thou knowest and I do not know,' many bleeding feet would to-day be walking paths of self-respecting freedom, or in soft ways of domestic peace.

The discourse was chiefly addressed, however, to fathers and mothers, showing where the defeat of life came in to childhood, and after life because there was no Christ in the home.

In the evening Mr. Fisk spoke on "The Power of Young Men," from the text, "The glory of young men is their strength." Mr. Fisk presented six elements of strength found in youth.

Fist—Innocence. "Strong in what you may undervalue, or be almost ashamed of—comparative innocence. You blush at the taunt, "Good little sonny, tied to your ma's apron string—little innocent!" But a man of the world, who has been steeped in sin, reads your blush and you thro' and thro', and mutters to himself, "Poor little fool, what he is ashamed of as weakness is his strength. My God, I wish I were back to his ignorance of sin." Dear boys, thank heaven that the power of the cradle, fireside, mother-love and sister restraint is still on you, to keep the priceless jewel of your virgin manhood. Never allow the mother apron-string to snap.

Second—You are strong as yet in physical stamnia, vitality, virility. Temptation has not yet flung you into that maelstrom of enervating dissipation that sucks down power of nerve, gland, main and will. The dissoluteness that turns self-ruling manliness over to a shuttlecock to the battledores of recurrent passion as yet you do not know. Thank God, and be warned. This devitalizing path is not a necessary discipline for you. It is a burning lie from the underworld that a young man must necessarily sow a crop of wild oats. Clean now, strong now, keep both.

Third—You stand yet in the hero-stage of life. You have virile blood to shed, vigor to give, self-devotion. Youth is (broadly speaking) unselfish; kindles quickly at the story of injustice, is ready to defend weakness. Keep that hero-spirit, the world is full of causes that need your championship.

Fourth—You have not as yet been cowed with any great defeat. Your very ignorance of how heavy the battle of life is, is in your favor. If you realized all you may yet face, you might be terrified. Thank heaven for that military grace of not knowing that you are whipped, till you establish victory.

Fifth—You have not yet felt the awful grip of selfishness as it throttles native generosity later in life. Boys are not born Scrooge's; Shylock's have to grow. That slow, insidious isolation from the common human weal is not a disease of open-hearted boyhood. The social bond as yet means something to you. Cultivate it.

Sixth—You are open to conviction, and as yet have no need for those lying sophistries that, like opiates, bad men are compelled to give to uneasy consciences, when they have committed themselves to a course of systematic selfishness. Keep your souls open to truth as bays lie open to ocean tides.

DAYTON SECURED IT.

Next Meeting of the Ohio Division L. A. W. To be Held There.

Cleveland, Dec. 14.—The executive committee of the Ohio division, L. A. W., held its meeting in this city Saturday at the rooms of the Cleveland wheel club and after a lengthy argument decided to hold the next state meet at Dayton.

In addition to that eight delegates were selected to represent Ohio at the national meeting of the L. A. W. These delegates are as follows: Dr. Griffin, Ravenna; K. D. Wood, Columbus; R. S. Reed, Chillicothe; Frank D. Meyer, Canton; Elmer Houk, Dayton; Dr. Maxwell, Steubenville; C. J. Fitzpatrick, Springfield; and George Collister, Cleveland.

The Cleveland wheelmen acquiesced gracefully in the decision of the committee and stated their determination to do all in their power to make the Dayton meet a success.

The Leader says that the action of the Cleveland men was much more generous than that of Dayton would have been had Cleveland been chosen for the state meet. In other words a conversation in which a Dayton delegate was a participant simply amounted to the statement that if Cleveland got the meet it could look out to the wheelmen in northern Ohio to furnish the attendance, for the men in southern Ohio wouldn't come up here. In connection with that conversation the following paragraph from the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette of Sunday is interesting:

The meeting of the officers and representatives of the Ohio division, L. A. W., will be held in Cleveland to-day. There are eight delegates to the national assembly to be elected, and also the question of locality for holding the next state meet. Cleveland and Dayton are both after it, and are straining every nerve to get it. The wheelmen of this locality are all in favor of Dayton, and if the meet is held there it will insure a larger attendance than if held in Cleveland.

While it doesn't do any particular good to lock the barn door after the horse is stolen, it is not out of place nor amiss to state that the committee made a bad blunder in passing Cleveland just at this particular time. It is to be presumed that the Cleveland wheelmen knew exactly what they were talking about when they were so urgent to have the next meet here. Perhaps when some future state committee is overburdened with an anxiety to unload an annual meet upon Cleveland the Forest City wheelmen will not be consumed with eagerness to "grasp the opportunity." Just a trifle of sectionalism is creeping into the L. A. W. ranks in Ohio. There is a little too much of the feeling that southern Ohio should have more than its share. It won't pay.

The Astral Editor.

If Sir Edwin Arnold really edits the London Telegraph there must be something in the doctrine of theosophy, of which he is so prominent an apostle. DR. SQUIRES IN TROUBLE

On Account of an Over Indulgence in the Cup.

Dr. Joab Squires, of East Toledo, formerly member of the school board and well known over the city, was arrested last week for neglecting his children, and in police court the case was continued until this morning. The doctor is a man of talent, but liquor caused his downfall until now he is a total wreck.

He was out on $50 bail, but last night got into trouble again by making a murderous assault on a neighbor while in a drunken fit. Squires lives on the corner of Bridge and Second streets and next to him is an Arabian fruit vender named Beshora. About 11 o'clock last night the doctor called Beshora out of bed and said he wanted to buy some fruit. The Arab admitted him, and while he was getting the fruit the doctor made an attempt to cut him with a long dissecting knife. Beshora warded off the blow, and grasping Squires' arm managed to take the knife away from him after a struggle.

Squires was arrested and locked up at the police station with a charge against him of assault with intent to wound, and bail was this morning fixed at $500. The case against him for neglecting children was continued to Wednesday.

The doctor had no cause for assaulting the Arab, and a drunken frenzy is the only reason to which the murderous attack is attributed.

A GREAT CARNIVAL.

Close of the Y's Great Entertainment at Memorial Hall.

The calendar carnival of the Ys closed Saturday night in a blaze of glory, and will go on record as the most successful entertainment yet given by that organization. The matinee in the afternoon was largely attended by the children, with a goodly number of their elders. The wand and hoop drills by a company of little girls were carried out, and some difficult evolutions were gone through with. The music by the "Kinder Symphony orchestra," under the leadership of Miss Flo Fisk, was delightful, and the children spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

The attendance in the evening was not so large as on Friday, but still there were plenty of people present. The cadet drill was repeated very successfully and again received much applause. Mr. Ed Pixley was handsomely remembered by the young ladies. The different boxes were well patronized and the affair will add considerably to the exchequer of the Ys.

SHOT DEAD.

A Mob Breaks Into a Jail and Kills Two Prisoners.

Wayeross, Ga., Dec. 14.—The Ware county jail was broken into early yesterday morning by a mob of 50 masked men, who went to the cell containing Welcome Golden and Robert Knight, leaders of the Varno riot, and shot them dead.

The sheriff attempted, with the aid of his assistants, to drive the mob off, but failed. He then sent word to this place, summoning the military company and the police, but by the time these arrived the mob had completed its work and departed.

School Boys Who Do Considerable Cutting.

St. Albans, W. Va., Dec. 14.—A number of serious stabbing affrays occurred in this vicinity among and by school boys the past week. Charles Hess and Fen Duval, boys of 16, quarrelled at school Friday and Hess stabbed Duval fatally.

On the same day James Jarvis, a boy, resisted Prof. Eddy, and in a fight cut Eddy four times. The condition of the professor is very serious.

At Belmont, near here, Prof. Singleton was stabbed five times Saturday by one of his pupils whom he had whipped on Friday. He was also frightfully bruised by kicks.

ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Nyack, N. Y., Dec. 14.—Assemblyman Frank P. Demarest, who was acquitted of the charge of forgery by a Rockland county jury last week, was elected president of the Rockland County Industrial association.

MAKES NO DEFENSE.

A Doctor Arrested for a Deliberate Murder.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 14.—Dr. James L. Massie was arrested in Warrick county Saturday for the murder of J. L. Kenakee at Owenton, Ky., October 11.

Both men were prominent in Owen county. Kenakee, it is claimed, circulated a report that Dr. Massie was intimate with his 18-year-old niece. The latter explained that he was treating the girl in a professional manner and asked for a retraction. It was refused, and Massie served notice he would kill Kenakee the next time he met him.

They met on the street and Massie, who carried a Winchester, drew bead on the slanderer and again demanded an apology.

"Never!" said Kenakee, "shoot, you scoundrel." The next instant a bullet pierced his head. Massie admits the murder.

THE CONDUCTOR'S STORY.

When a man has been railroadin' twenty long years
He gets kinder hardened an' tough,
And scenes of affliction don't trouble him much,
'Cause his nature is coarse like an' tough.
But a scene that took place on my train one cold night
Would a' melted the heart of a stone,
An' among the adventures which I have been through
That night jist stands out alone.

'Twas a bitter cold night, an' the train was jam full;
Every berth in the sleeper was taken;
The people had just turned in for the night
An' the train for New York was a-makin',
When just as the people to snore had begun,
An' I with a satisfied sigh
Had sat down in a chair for a short rest, I heard
The sound of a young baby's cry.

It was one of those loud, aggravating-like yells,
O' the pattern that make you jist itch
For a gun or an ax an' excites up your mind
With wild thoughts of murder an' sich.
It went through that car, and I needn't remark
That the snorin' stopped right there an' then,
An' that sleeper was filled with a bilin' hot crowd
O' man, woman and wild swearin' men.

The curtains jist then that concealed berth 16
Were opened an' out came a man,
As fine a young feller as ever I seen,
But his face was all white-like an' wan.
He carried the kid that was raisin' the row
An' commenced walkin' down through the aisle
A tryin' to stop its loud screechin'—but, pshaw!
It seemed to get wuss every mile.

An idea seemed to strike one old feller just then,
An' he said to the pale-faced young man:
"It seems to me, stranger, that kid could be stilled
By a simple an' feasible plan;
The noise that it's makin' betrays what it needs—
The child wants its mother, that's plain;
An' why don't you call her? Ten chances to one
She's sleepin' somewhere on the train."

A look then came over the young father's face,
A look full of anguish an' pain,
A look that will haunt me as long as I,
As long as I work on a train,
An' he answered that man in a hoarse, stifled voice
That sounded as though from afar—
"Her mother is sleeping on board of this train
In a box in the baggage car."

—Maurice E. McLoughlin.

A commission of gipsy moth exterminators, acting at the expense of Massachusetts, under legislative authority, has been at work in the vicinity of Boston. The state has already spent $100,000 in its war upon this insect pest, which in more than one suburb has stripped the trees entirely of foliage. The ravages were worse in Middlesex county than anywhere else, and billions of eggs were there destroyed. Indeed, the nuisance has become so offensive that the fire department was frequently called out to wash moths off the trees and afterward crush them with rollers. This winter the superintendent of annihilation will keep 50 men employed at marking trees with the fatal white circle. Twenty-one years ago the gipsy moth was unknown in Massachusetts. About that time a French professor, who brought some eggs over for a natural history collection, allowed them, it is said, to blow out of a window, Hence all the trouble.

NO END TO THE RIOTING.

Michael Davitt Assaulted in the Streets

And Badly Bruised by Parnell Followers.

Disgraceful Scenes in the Streets of Waterford — Many of Both Factions Carried to the Hospitals and Police Stations.

Dublin, Dec. 14.—Michael Davitt, the famous Irish leader, was seriously wounded during a riot in Waterford city Sunday. M. Davitt and Mr. Wm. O'Brien had gone to Waterford to support the candidature of Mr. Keane, the nominee of the McCarthyites, for the seat in parliament made vacant by the death of Richard Power.

Mr. Keane's opponent is Mr. Redmond, a member of the Parnell wing of the Irish party.

Reports from Waterford city show that the riot was one of the most sanguinary and vicious of any of the political rows that have recently attended the discussions in Irish towns of the rival leaders.

Ominous rumors of an impending row had been exciting the populace for some little while and a force of 600 police had been drafted into the town, in the hopes that their presence would secure order.

The Parnellite leaders, Messrs. Redmond, Leamy and Dalton had been in Waterford some days.

A mob composed of members of Parnellite faction began one of the fiercest conflicts that has characterized prevailing hostilities. The opposing crowds fought at very close quarters and surged to and fro throughout the streets seeming utterly regardless of the presence of the police.

Volleys of stones were hurled through the air, and the blackthorns moved with a vicious celerity that sent many of the howling rioters to hospitals, the police station and then home for prompt surgical attention.

In the midst of the affray Mr. Davitt received a nasty cut on the forehead from which the blood flowed freely. Mr. Tanner and others were injured by stones. At last the police formed a cordon and divided the opposing mobs, and the Davitt crowd reached the club room.

Mr. O'Brien made the speech of the day. He bitterly denounced the assault upon his friends and said the crowds who injured Davitt had struck a glorious blow for the Irish cause.

Davitt's answer to that blow was that now he was a candidate for Waterford.

O'Brien, in his concluding words accused the police of using their batons more in favor of the attacking mob than otherwise. The police, he asserted, protected the Parnellites, while the force of their blows was devoted to the McCarthyites.

The main fight occurred for the possession of the bridge leading to the town. The police were entirely unable to quell the contest. The respective bands of musicians received much ill usage. Their brass horns were twisted and their drums torn into shreds. Constant skirmishes continued until the Davitt crowds reached their rendezvous, the indiscriminate blows of the police on the heads and backs of the mob producing little effect.

While Mr. O'Brien was making his speech, Dr. Tanner was busy dressing the wound on Mr. Davitt's head, and after he was salved and bandaged, that gentleman appeared at one of the windows of the club house and spoke briefly.

There were slight skirmishes as the various deputations were departing to the railway station on the road to their homes. Altogether the day and the occasion has been disgraced by a cruel vicious row, and the feeling among the adherents of the respective factions is regarded as bitter and as intense as ever it was.

The correctness of the maxim "nothing succeeds like success" is well exemplified in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The most successful combination of alteratives and tonics, it always succeeds in curing diseases of the blood, and hence its wonderful popularity.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Great Reception for Sol Smith Russell Saturday.

"Hands Across the Sea" at the People's This Week—"Mr. Wilkinson's Widows."

Clean, wholesome and altogether delightful, Peaceful Valley, Sol Smith Russel's new play, is a comedy that shall live. It is, strange to say, a comedy with a moral and as full of tone and life and light as a morning in June. Saturday evening Mr. Russell presented it to the largest house of the season at Wheeler's, and in a little speech before the curtain he gracefully returned thanks for the generous approval so lavishly bestowed.

The play—a simple story of New England life—was written expressly by that gentle humorist, Ed. E. Kidder, for Mr. Russell, and the singular and eccentric country character, Hosea Howe, suits the comedian superbly. He is supported by a fairly good company. Miss Anna Belmont (Oesterman) was the recipient of several beautiful floral tributes from Toledo friends.

Mr. Russell in his speech before the curtain paid the "little lady," as he called her, a handsome compliment.

There is a fortune in Peaceful Valley for Mr. Russell, and there is a wealth of genuine fun with a fair percentage of pathos in it for the theater-goers of America.

Hands Across the Sea.

Since Henry Pettitt's melo-drama, Hands Across the Sea, was last seen here it has been greatly strengthened in cast and improved in scenic effects, and those of the audience at the People's theater this week who may chance to remember the production of the play last season will be pleasantly surprised.

In the company are Wm. Harcourt, as Jack Dudley; W. H. Wallis, as Dick Melford, his original part; Henry Pierson, as Robert Stillwood, his original part; Cora Edsall, who last season starred under the management of J. M. Hill, as Lillian Melford; Carrie Oesterman, a Toledo girl, as Lucy, and other artists equally skilled in portraying the lights and shadows on the stage. The acts pass in Devonshire, in Paris, on the deck of an ocean steamer, and in Sydney, Australia. This steamer set cost over $2,000 and is regarded by stage mechanics as one of the finest pieces of construction ever shown in a theater. The illusion created is startling in its realistic impressiveness.

Hands Across the Sea is produced upon an even more liberal scale now than when first introduced to the public, and lovers of melo-drama will be delighted with it. A clever hornpipe dance, introduced in the play by Lillie Burnham, has made a notable hit with audiences elsewhere.

Commencing to-night, Hands Across the Sea will hold the boards at the People's all this week.

"Mr. Wilkinson's Widows."

The next attraction at Wheeler's will be Mr. Wilkinson's Widows, to-morrow and Wednesday nights. Of this splendid comedy the New York World says:

"Mr. Gillette, in his effort at Proctor's Twenty-third street theater last night, has evidently studied public taste, and for two hours and a half drew constant shouts of laughter over the complications afforded by the new comedy, "Mr. Wilkinson's Widows" develops a new complication in the line of comedy-farce. Though adapted from the French, it maintains skillfully the many surprises and complications not unlike the French original in its scheme, but localized by Mr. Gillette. Mr. Wilkinson does not appear in the play, but it is shown that when he was alive he was a lively character. He lived in London and in Edinburgh, where he had business in the wine trade. In these cities he maintained two domestic establishments. Mr. Gillette shows that he was married to two charming young women, one of whom during Wilkinson's absence carried on a series of flirtations with several admirers. On Wilkinson's death, however, both the young women married. One of them is known as Mrs. Perrin, the other as Mrs. Dickerson. The latter was the lively Mrs. Wilkinson during his lifetime. Each supposes herself to be the undisputed wife of the bigamist. It would be difficult to describe the many complications and coincidents developed by the mixing up of the two widows, the jealousy, agony and suspicion of their husbands, their households and their friends, but it was evident from the laughter and uproar of the audience that Gillette's latest comedy had captured their fancy. It made a laughing triumph from the rise of the curtain on the first act to its fall at the close. Though individual scores were made by many of the people in the cast, it is the acting of the play as a whole that will win for it the appreciation it deserves. It is one of the best comedies of the kind that has been offered to the public in many seasons—better as a merry-maker than "The Private Secretary," or any other of the class of plays to which that successful comedy belongs."

CHURCH AND STATE.

A Rock Upon Which France May Split.

Masonic Members of the Chamber of Deputies to Agitate the Separation of the Two.

Paris, Dec. 14.—The agitation aroused by the action of the French archbishops in arraying themselves in opposition to the government of France, assumed today, a new and more serious aspect.

The members of the chamber of deputies who belong to the Masonic fraternity, have called a meeting for December 16, inviting all those who are in sympathy with them, to attend in order to formulate and arrange a systematic, logical agitation, inside and outside of the chamber of deputies, having for its object the separation of church and state.

TO SUCCEED JUDGE COOLEY.

Rumor That Ex-Gov. Anthony of Kansas Will Be Appointed.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 14.—Unless all signs fail, ex-Gov. Anthony of Kansas will succeed Judge Cooley as a member of the interstate commerce commission. It is understood that President Harrison has decided to appoint him. Judge Anthony has for years been a member of the Kansas board of railway commissioners, and is known as a man who is open to argument, and cannot be bought, bribed or bulldozed.

TWO COMMITTEES.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Speaker Crisp has appointed committees as follows:

Special Master's Sale.

United States of America, Northern District of Ohio.

The Central Trust Company of New York Complainant, v. The Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad Company and others, Defendants. Consolidated Causes. In the Circuit courts of the United States for the Northern District of Ohio, Western division, and for the Southern district of Ohio, Western division, and for the Eastern district of Michigan, and for the Western district of Michigan, Southern division. In equity.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern district of Ohio, Western division, entered in the above entitled cause on June 5, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern district of Ohio, Western division, entered in the above entitled cause on July 1, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern district of Michigan, entered in the above entitled cause on June 22, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western district of Michigan, Southern division, entered in the above entitled cause on June 30, 1891, and of an order of said circuit court of the United States for the Northern District of Ohio dated November 14th, 1891, and of orders of said other circuit courts adopting the same, we, Benjamin F. Wade and Hiram F. Carleton, the Special Masters designated, by said decrees, will sell without appraisement, at public auction, to the highest bidder or bidders, in the United States court room, in the City of Toledo, County of Lucas, and State of Ohio, at three o'clock, p. m. on the 22nd day of December, 1891, that portion of the mortgaged premises and property mentioned in said decrees, and thereby directed to be sold known as the Central Division of the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad Company, being the property described in the first mortgage of the Cincinnati, Van Wert & Michigan Railroad Company, dated April 14, 1881, together with the proportion of equipment, material and supplies appertaining to such Division, which upon the reference ordered in said decrees, shall be decreed by the court to properly belong to the same, and to be covered by said mortgage. The same will be sold in the manner and upon the terms hereinafter stated, viz: Said property will be offered for sale as an entirety, without appraisement or redemption. No bid will be accepted therefor from any bidder for a sum less than $150,000, nor from any bidder who shall not, if requested by the Special Masters, place in their hands, or deposit with them, as a pledge that he will make good his bid, if accepted by the court, the sum of $15,000 in cash, or first mortgage bonds of said Cincinnati, Van Wert & Michigan Railroad Company to the amount of $100,000 of principal.

Of the price for which said property shall be sold, there shall be paid in cash, at the time of the sale, a sum equal to the amount of cash deposit hereinbefore required, and also, at the same time, and from time to time thereafter, such further portions of said purchase price as the court may direct; and the court reserves the right to reject any bid, and to take and to sell said premises and property, upon failure of any purchaser for twenty days to comply with any order of the court requiring payment. The balance of the purchase price not required to be paid in cash may either be paid in cash, or the purchaser may satisfy and make good said balance of his bid, in whole or in part, by paying over the outstanding First Mortgage Bonds secured by said mortgage and overdue coupons, and the outstanding Income Bonds, or either, at such price or value as shall be equivalent to the amount that the holders thereof would be entitled to receive thereon, in case the entire purchase price were paid in cash. If any bid shall be accepted by the court, and the person making the same shall fail to comply with all the conditions of sale and all orders of the court with respect thereto, the sum deposited by the bidder shall be forfeited, and shall be applied as the court may direct.

Reference is hereby made to the said decrees for a more specific description of the mortgaged property therein ordered to be sold, and for further particulars of the terms and conditions of sale.

STATE OF OHI

WANT A SHORT SESSION.

Gossip Picked Up Among Congressmen.

The Work of Forming the Committees.

Speaker Crisp Deluged With Advice From Members—A Large Number of Bills Being Introduced—General Washington Chat.

Washington, Dec. 12.—(Special)—This is to be a short session of congress. On that point both democrats and republicans seem to be agreed. The former will strain every point to bring their work to an end as soon as possible. There is now every indication that the session will not be longer than the middle of June or the 1st of July, while there are many prominent members who are predicting an adjournment about the middle of May.

This, however, is not likely, for the reason that the committees will not be announced until after the holidays, and it will take some time for the new committeemen to become acquainted with the intricacies of the appropriation bills in particular, to say nothing of the other bills that will be introduced by the score.

There is sure to be some debate on the tariff, even if the policy as outlined heretofore is followed, for the house will not put coal, iron ore and wool on the free list, for instance, until there has been a full discussion.

When these tariff bills are reported the chairman of the ways and means committee will give notice to the members to be ready at once with their speeches, and, if they are not ready, the measures will be put through without delay.

So far as can be learned, there will be no factions opposition on the part of the republicans to the transaction of business.

It is due largely to this desire on the part of the majority to bring the session to a speedy end that the speaker is laboring with untiring zeal upon the formation of his committees. He spent yesterday in his room at the capitol and was in continual conference with the members. He is doing a considerable listening, but is not saying a great deal.

The New England members feel that they are not in a position to demand any favors, but they are nevertheless being received by the speaker with cordiality, and their requests are being considered with careful attention. It is quite evident that the speaker, being now entrusted with the administration of the house, proposes to forget that there ever was a speakership fight, and will so organize the committees as to secure the greatest amount of good to the democratic party.

While he will not forget his friends, he will not punish those who were honestly his opponents. In this view of the case it would not be surprising if New England received two chairmanships, besides recognition on the ways and means, river and harbor, public buildings and commerce committees. The delegation will hold no meeting, as they consider that such action would under the circumstances be presumptious.

The New York delegation will not meet until the return of those members who are now in New York city. Consequently there has been no consideration by the speaker of the places to which the New York members will be assigned.

Mr. Carlisle, when he became speaker, departed from the prior customs of selecting members of the committee on rules regardless of their committee assignments, and made its membership go as a matter of course to the chairmen of the two most important committees, namely, ways and means and appropriations. Speaker Reed followed the same course.

The previous speakers, Messrs. Randall and Keifer, had selected the rules committee with regard to other considerations, Messrs. Blackburn and Alexander Stephens being the former's associates and having otherwise no special committee prominence.

A number of democratic congressmen urge a return to this policy, and represent that its effect would be to strengthen the speaker.

The ways and means and appropriations committees now have prior rights under the rules over other committees, and with their respective chairmen on the rules committee, which is the guiding or "steering" body of the house, the result is represented to be disastrous to other committees, whose business may be important, and membership on this rules committee, it is urged, should be high enough honor without other committee assignment except of a very ordinary character, such as the chairmanship perhaps, of some minor committee.

Moreover, as the chairman of the two principal committees would be the managers of work originating with their committees, the speaker would have these men as his active lieutenants in fiscal and revenue affairs, and the rules committee members as lieutenants in other proposed legislation, and altogether would have an excellent opportunity to keep thoroughly in touch with his party. It has been presumed that ex-Speaker Reed would be one of the minority representatives on the rules committee, but under this policy such, perhaps, would not be the case, as Mr. Reed might prefer to lead the minority of the committees on ways and means.

There are two sides, however, to the proposed method of constituting the rules committee, and the speaker also heard the objections that were urged against the plan. It was represented that the appropriations and ways and means committees were the most important of all committees, and that their work would be the feature of the session.

It was urged that the chairmen of these two committees should have representation on the rules committee for the reason that otherwise their policy might be blocked by the introduction of special orders having precedence. It was urged that it was to the interest of the harmonious working of the house to have the order of legislation in the hands of those directly concerned in the chief measures to be brought up.

* * * * *

The record of the first day's work in the senate breaks the record. There were 612 bills introduced and ten joint resolutions. On the corresponding day last year there were 505 bills introduced and nine joint resolutions. A large number of the bills were legislative chestnuts.

* * * * *

The new congressional library building will be under roof within two years, and completed in five, the progress made in its construction being most satisfactory. These facts are apparent from the report of Gen. Casey, chief of engineers in charge of the works, which was yesterday submitted to the senate.

* * * * *

Labor organizations of Washington seem to be in favor of seeing Hon. John J. O'Neill, of Missouri, at the head of the labor committee, the position held by him in the former congresses. Messrs. Hobbs and Oyster, who are labor leaders in the district, have announced their intention of urging Mr. O'Neill's peculiar fitness for this chairmanship.

* * * * *

The effect of the report from the committee on rules, made by Senator Aldrich, will be to exclude from the floor of the senate, to a large extent, a number of persons who have heretofore obtained access thereto under the guise of private secretaries to senators, as well as the numerous committee clerks who have enjoyed the same privilege. The amendment proposed to the rule provides that clerks to senators shall be admitted only when in the actual discharge of their duties, and that the last-named class of persons must be regularly borne upon the rolls of the secretary of the senate as clerks.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

An Old Man Shoots His Wife, and Then Kills Himself.

Mount Olive, Ill., Dec. 14.—As the result of a probably insane man's horrible work yesterday, John Miller, aged 68 years, lies a corpse by his own hand, while his wife is perhaps fatally wounded. The tragedy was evidently premeditated by Miller, as he, a few days before, made his will and settled up his business affairs.

Mrs. Miller went down town and during her absence he became intoxicated to nerve himself. On her return he threatened her life. When she ran out of the house he followed her and fired at her as she ran. A bullet passed entirely through her body. She fell as friends came to her help. Miller, after the shooting, went into a back room, put the muzzle of a gun in his mouth and discharged the remaining load, killing him instantly.

A TALE OF THE MOUNTAINS

A Nervy Lass Prevents the Capture of a Still.

She Shoots Her Lover, Who Had Turned Out to be a Spy, in Order to Save Her Father.

Jasper, Ark., Dec. 14.—Word has reached here of the shooting of a deputy marshal by the daughter of a moonshiner who has been running an illicit still in the mountains north of this town.

United States officers have been searching for the stillhouse for some time, and while they have several times been close to the place they were always led away by false information.

They had every reason to believe that Jim Pinxton was running the still, yet could find nothing that would incriminate him.

Among the officers was a handsome young fellow named Charles Roberts, who determined to get at the bottom of the case if possible. He went into the neighborhood in the disguise of a log cutter and became acquainted with Pinxton and his daughter Eunice, and soon became a great favorite with both the old man and young girl.

He was progressing finely and had almost reached a point where he thought he could organize a raid when a man came in the neighborhood who knew him and who knew he was a revenue officer.

This man did not let Roberts see him, but he went to Pinxton and told him what he knew. Pinxton had almost fallen into the trap and was about to take Roberts to the still when he heard what he was.

The old man said nothing to Roberts, but told Eunice, and they concluded that the best thing to do was to simply make the young fellow leave the country.

The girl told Roberts that they had learned that he was a spy, and while the family had nothing to fear from spies they did not like to have them around, and told him he had better go back to town or he might get into trouble.

Roberts thought he was too near his goal to give it up, and while he ostensibly started to town he remained in the neighborhood, and when Pinxton started for his still he was close on his trail. The girl chanced to see him and followed too.

When she saw that Roberts would undoubtedly track the old man down she deliberately shot Roberts, the balls breaking his leg. He was taken back to Pinxton's house and nursed and then sent to town with a warning that he would not escape so easily next time.

SHOT BY A LUNATIC.

Canton, O., Dec. 14.—Orlando Stone, a farmer living in Tuscarawas township, near this city, was shot in the leg by a lunatic named Daniel Jones, whom he requested not to shoot near his house, as the noise frightened his horses. For a reply Jones discharged his gun, frightening a team near by. Stone turned and on the refusal of Jones to move, took him by the shoulder and pushed him. Jones walked a few steps, then turned and, deliberately pointing the gun at Stone, shot him in the leg. Jones escaped and has not yet been captured.

SLOSS IN JAIL.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Private James McDonald, who was shot in the Fort Sheridan barracks Saturday morning, was buried to-day with military honors. Private Amos Sloss, his assailant, was held by a coroner's jury for murder and tomorrow he will be taken to the jail at Waukegan. Sentiment found some excuse for Sloss's act when the coroner's jury discovered that the prisoner, a smaller man than McDonald, had been for some time tantalized and tormented by the dead man.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/A Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/A trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

MRS. GRAHAM'S Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream

Is not a cosmetic in the sence in which that term is popularly used, but permanently beautifies. It creates a soft, smooth, clear, velvety skin, and by daily use gradually makes the complexion several shades whiter. It is a constant protection from the effects of sun and wind and prevents sunburn and freckles and blackheads will never come while you use it. It cleanses the face far better than soap and water, nourishes and builds up the skin tissues and thus prevents the formation of wrinkles. It gives the freshness, clearness and smoothness of skin that you had when a little girl. Every lady, young or old, ought to use it, as it gives a more youthful appearance to any lady and that permanently. It contains no acid, powder or alkali, and is as harmless as dew and as nourishing to the skin as dew is to the flower. Price $1.00. Ask your druggist for it.

SAMPLE BOTTLE mailed free to any lady on receipt of 10 cents in stamps to pay for postage and packing. Lady Agents wanted.

DOCTOR FRANCE,

Formerly of New York, now the Celebrated Examining Physician of the France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, has decided to visit Toledo,

DR. FRANCE, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 23.
DR. OTTMAN, SATURDAY, JANUARY 2

Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlors of the Burnet House, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

The France Medical and Surgical Institute, of Columbus, Ohio, is the only Medical Institute in the state incorporated with a capital of $50,000.

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession.

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, langnor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

WONDERFUL CURES Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. Perfected in old cases guaranteed. No risks incurred. Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

The Financial Situation.

Money has continued in abundance and the offerings have been liberal. Bankers' balances have loaned at 3 1-2 and at 2 per cent., averaging 3, at which renewals have been made, and the minimum at banks and trust companies is 3 per cent., although some obtain 4 per cent. Contracts on time on first-class collateral are freely offered, and even where loans are sought on good stock exchange security the lenders are liberal in their views as to the collateral and will not reject any that can be classed as above the medium. Rates are 4 to 4 1-2 per cent. for thirty to sixty days, 5 per cent. for ninety days and 5 1-2 per cent. for four to six months. The demand is good and the rise in values of some of the stock properties has resulted in increased business in time loans. Commercial paper of the first class is in little better supply and the demand is good, but lower grade names do not meet with ready sale. Rates are 4 3-4 to 5 per cent. for sixty to ninety day indorsed bills receivable, 5 to 5 1-2 for four months commission house names, and 5 1-2 to 6 for good single names having from four to six months to run.—N. Y. Financial Chronicle.

Grain Blockade at Chicago and East.—Owing to merchants being unable to get their grain switched to the various local industries many were forced to accept in store from 1@2c lower prices than could otherwise be obtained. Local millers and clearances were practically barren from competing for the offerings.

A large fleet of steamers is delayed at New York by the inability to get their cargoes of grain. The delay is due to the railroad blockade.

November Railway Earnings.

In amount of increase the October statement was the best of any monthly return for about two years, the gain being over 4 1-2 million dollars, or 8.54 per cent. The November statement shows a gain of nearly the same dimensions, namely, $4,261,416, and the ratio of improvement is 9.42 per cent. The showing for November, 1890, was among the poorest of that year, and yet there was a gain in the sum of $1,880,151.—N. Y. Financial Chronicle.

Bradstreet's Report of Exports.

Exports of wheat from 12 United States ports this week equal 6,033,000 bu, against 5,799,742 bu (flour included as wheat) the week before, and as compared with 2,641,079 bu in the second week of December, 1890.

The total quantity of wheat available east of the Rocky mountains in the United States and Canada last Saturday amounted to only 62,328,852 bu, as compared with 62,968,527 bu one week before, a nominal decrease of 639,675 bu. The word nominal is used because the apparent disappearance of more than one-half million bu of wheat is probably only apparent, and due to a large quantity having disappeared into railway freight cars, only to come into sight and be "available" again at no distant day. The decrease of fully 3,695,000 bu wheat afloat on lake, canal and river will more than explain the nominal decline of 639,675 bu.

German Import Duties.

It is about settled that Germany has reduced her duty on wheat 30 per cent., which will give a reduction of about 10c per bu. The treaty is yet to be ratified by their legislature. It is to take effect February 1 next, if so ratified. But it has no effect on our prices, as we have all along stated it would not. After the accumulations that now bear upon the demand it may increase the demand from us.

Accumulations.

The present accumulations of wheat in elevators east or west, about which so much is being said, are by no means excessive, as compared with other years. New York has 8,000,000 bus. in store and afloat. In 1888 the quantity was 9,200,000 bus. In 1887, 8,800,000 bus. In 1886, 11,300,000 bus. In 1885, 9,800,000 bus. Chicago has more. St. Louis, Detroit and Toledo less than average on a good crop. It is the fact of the large amount on the rail and at Buffalo awaiting cars that makes all the noise. The most of this wheat is said to be sold for export, and ocean ships are waiting for it. We shall soon clean it up, and have fair sailing again.

In Oregon, Washington and Idaho the surplus is about exhausted. The Minneapolis Record says that the 3,000,000 bu now in store in those states about represents what is left for sale.

The shipments of wheat from India last week, equaled 960,000 bu. Previous week 1,080,000 bu. Since April 1, the beginning of the crop year, 43,978,000 bu, compared with 20,000,000 bu in the corresponding period in 1890.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 403,540 bu in excess of the corresponding Monday in 1890.

The export clearances Saturday were 399,077 bu of wheat and flour to an aggregate of 450,000 bu. The export of corn was 104,926 bu and of oats 179,465 bu.

English markets as reported herein were dull, but about steady for wheat and lower for corn.

The markets for wheat in this country have not varied much to-day, and the trading is reported as comparatively light. No new conditions are presented except the visible supply statement. Dealers have expected a large increase by the reappearance of a good deal of wheat which was on the rail last week and now supposed to have arrived somewhere. But it did not materialize, and only gave an increase of 600,000 bu. This result had a bracing effect on markets, which advanced 1-2c.

Corn is weaker and lower all around.

In New York December closed at 1-2c and May at 3-8c decline. December corn 1 3-4c and May 1-2c lower. December corn 3-4c lower.

In Chicago December wheat closed 1-8c and May 1-8c up. December corn 1-2c lower, and May steady. December oats 1-8c lower.

Liverpool wheat market closed unchanged for spot and lower for futures. Corn also lower. Paris and Antwerp both higher for wheat.

In Toledo.—There has been a moderate degree of activity in wheat, confined almost entirely to the May future. Prices have been firm and average better than Saturday's closing. On the call December sold at 96c. After the call May sold at $1.02 5-8@1.02 1-8, and closed at $1.02 5-8, a gain of 3-8c.

Cash wheat was in limited request and the sales were light. No. 2 soft sold at 96 1-2c and closed at 97c, a gain of 3-4c. No. 3 soft at 93c D. & M. Rejected No. 1 at 87 1-2c.

Corn—No. 2 about 47c. No. 3 at 45 1-2c. No. 4 at 43 1-2c to 43c. January about 46 3-4c. Rye—No. 2 at 92 1-2c. Dressed hogs at $4 25.

Clover Seed was active, firm and 10c higher. On the call March sold at $5 55. After the call prime for cash at $5 45 to $5 50. February at $5 47 1-2 to $5 60. March at $5 65. Alsike, $7 50. No. 2 at $5 35.

The visible supply of wheat increased last week 601,000 bus. Corn, 340,000 bus, and oats, 671,000 bus. In the corresponding week in 1890, wheat increased 616,000 bus. Corn decreased 458,000 bus. Oats increased 81,000 bus.

WILL SQUEEZE GOULD,

Wall Street To-Day Discussing the Markets.

Will The Celebrated "Black Friday" of Twenty-One Years Ago be Seen Again by the Money Lenders of the East?

New York, Dec. 14.—If some of the wiseacres of Wall street can be believed Jay Gould has been trapped by his enemies. The "Wizard of Wall Street" is said to have been caught short of stocks on the eve of a bull market and stands to lose millions of dollars. His only salvation lies in precipitating a crash in prices like that which struck the street on "Black Friday," 21 years ago. Whether he will do this or not is, of course, known only to Mr. Gould, who is secretive; but the belief prevails in many quarters that he will, and the street is primed for a sensation.

Mr. George Crouch, one of the best known men in Wall street, threw some light on the situation in an interview with a reporter of Colonel Cockerill's Advertiser.

"The money market is on the eve of one of the most exciting episodes in the history of the street," said Mr. Crouch. "Jay Gould, his son George and their followers are away short of the market, and the point has been about reached where they will begin to buy in. Everybody knows, of course, that this will create a sharp advance in stocks. It appears to me to be a duel between the Gould and Vanderbilt forces. It has been known for some that there was an unprecedented short interest in American stocks, and on settlement days, which occur fortnightly, the London people have naturally wondered and asked who the people were on the bull side, which is only natural with a big firm carrying any amount of stocks.

"Now, why did Mr. Gould, who has more ready money than perhaps any man in this country, look with favor upon the great export of gold unless he desired to bear the market? The heavy export caused no little alarm on the street at the time (two weeks ago), almost $68,000,000 being sent to Europe, of which only about $27,000,000 has been returned.

"To be candid, it is believed by stock brokers in general that Mr. Gould was largely responsible for this large export. It is well known that when Gould got a controlling interest of the Union Pacific he opposed Charles Francis Adams, who was ousted, and some say tried to throw the road into the hands of a receiver, but that J. Pierpont Morgan and the Vanderbilts took charge of the floating debt for three years and blocked the plan.

"When these facts are considered it will be seen that the Gould people stand to lose something up in the millions. The speculators, however, are not making any money out of the deal, but the investors who buy stock out and out are the people who are reaping the harvest. Some people say that Gould's only salvation will be some terrific crash such as 'Black Friday,' in which event he can buy in his short interests at a profit. But I think Gould will emulate Napoleon in a certain sense. So long as Napoleon was advancing with his army he carried everything before him and the enemy fled, but when he gave the order to retreat the Cossacks wheeled around and hastened his steps."

Others corroborated Mr. Crouch, the majority adding that there was no clique or combination to down Gould, but that it was the natural course of the market, and that Gould had placed himself in the predicament set forth and would probably pay the tolls before he got through. One broker who was seen, but did not wish to be quoted, said that he thought it was more the followers of George Gould and George himself that were short of the market, and the old gentleman naturally had to back them up. Washington E. Connor said: "There has been a heavy short interest in New York for over a year, but from all information received from Europe there is none there. I do not keep Mr. Gould's books, and, therefore, cannot speak intelligently regarding his transactions. I know that there are a number of houses in the street that are large borrowers of stock, but who they represent or who they are borrowing for is merely guess work."

PRICES GO TO PIECES.

Carpet Trade in a Demoralized Condition.

No Relief Through the Big Sacrifice Sale—The McKinley Bill Has Proved Its Worthlessness.

New York, Dec. 14.—There is trouble in the carpet trade, and manufacturers throughout the country are in an unhappy frame of mind. Within the last month prices have all gone to pieces, until now it is said prices are lower than they ever were before—lower in some respects than the English prices for the like class of goods, and lower than the cost of production.

If manufacturers are to be believed, the competition between the various manufacturers has reached a point which threatens the destruction of the weaker houses.

The disposition with some of them is to charge the present depression upon the Alexander Smith & Sons company, who recently sold at public auction 60,000 rolls of carpet, representing the overproduction of the company's mill.

Mr. Wood, of the firm of E. S. Higgins & Co., said he had heard of no such meetings, but it was high time something was done to prevent manufacturers from cutting each other's throats.

This sale was itself a disturbing element in the trade, but when it was over manufacturers breathed for a time a little more freely, thinking that the worst was over, and that the fight had been transferred to the retail trade.

Their consternation was great, therefore, when they discovered that almost immediately after the big auction sale Alexander Smith & Sons issued a new price list, in which they offered to take orders for manufacture at substantially the prices paid at auction for the same class of goods.

The mill had been shut down for a short time, during and immediately preceding the sale, but now it started up in full force, just as if the company wanted all the orders it could get at the new prices and was doing a profitable business.

Then the trouble began. First one manufacturer and then another cut his prices to meet the reduction made by the Alexander Smith & Sons company. To-day the announcement was wired from Philadelphia that the Lowell Manufacturing company, of Lowell, Mass., had reduced its prices 10 cents a yard on body Brussels, 7 1-2 cents on tapestry and 5 cents on ingrain carpets. The prices quoted by the Alexander R. Smith & Sons company were for ten-wire tapestries, 67 1-2 cents; nine-wire tapestries, 62 1-2 cents; B palisades, 50 cents—in each case a cut of 10 cents a yard from the list prices before sale; F palisades, 45 cents, a drop of 7 1-2 cents; velvets, $1.10; moquettes, $1.12 1-2, reduced from $1.35, and Axminsters, $1.20, reduced from $1.35.

There were rumors of a proposed carpet trust to-day. A statement had been published that several secret meetings with the view of forming a "protective association" had been held in Philadelphia.

There was a sort of manufacturers' association already in existence, and it had been very active during the session of the last congress in attending to tariff legislation, but since the McKinley bill became a law it had held no meetings.

The concensus of opinion among the smaller manufacturers and retailers was that the McKinley bill had proved a bugaboo to the whole industry. It placed them in the power of a few manufacturers on a large scale and thereby begot a trust.

A man named Frank Whitney was arrested last evening on Parkwood avenue by Officer Van Buskirk. He had in his wagon a quantity of pieces of lumber taken from some new houses in that vicinity, and he is suspected of pilfering from other buildings in course of erection.

BLAINE THEIR ONLY HOPE

And He Is Not Available for the Race.

Col. McClure Sizes up the Situation.

The Strongest Man In the Republican Party Will be Turned Down and the Weakest Man Placed on the Ticket.

New York, Dec. 14.—Col. A. K. McClure, the veteran Philadelphia editor, although identified with the democratic party for many years, enjoys close personal relation with Mr. Blaine.

"Mr. Blaine," said Col. McClure, "is the only statesman left in the ranks of the G. O. P. He it was who rescued his party from the bottomless abyss into which the McKinley bill would have plunged it. But for Mr. Blaine's insertion of the reciprocity clause in the McKinley bill, the republicans would not today be certain of carrying a single state in the Union.

"Mr. Blaine foresaw the situation and was quick to suggest the remedy. The republican leaders in congress objected at first, but he aroused public sentiment and forced them to his position.

"Reciprocity is only another name for Free Trade, but its adoption by the republicans is the only thing that has saved them from utter and crushing defeat.

"It must be very gratifying to Mr. Blaine to see the very general demand for his nomination in his party throughout the country. He is unquestionably the strongest man in his party. But I do not believe he will be nominated. Mr. Blaine may be dreaming a little of the presidency of late, but when the time comes when he must face the question and say 'yes' or 'no,' I believe he will say 'no.'

"His health is the only obstacle in his path, but that is much more critical than is generally known. If Mr. Blaine should accept the nomination for president next year I do not think he would live to the end of the campaign. Knowing what I do about his physical condition I think I am justified in saying that the great strain of a canvass would kill Mr. Blaine inside of sixty days. To any one who knows Mr. Blaine intimately nothing is more certain than that he is absolutely out of the presidential race for physical reasons.

"I know that Dr. Taylor, of Philadelphia, recently gave Mr. Blaine a clean bill of health, so to speak, but that does not prove anything to the inititated.

"The truth is that Mr. Blaine has been kept alive for many years by his physicians concealing his true condition from him. It would not do to tell him the truth. Should any physician do so Mr. Blaine would not live a week. I have never met a man who was more nearly a fatalist than Mr. Blaine. His physicians have kept him up on false hopes and misleading statements. If he should learn the truth he would collapse utterly.

"It is my knowledge of Mr. Blaine's real condition that convinces me of the utter impossibility of his being the republican candidate next year. His nomination at Minneapolis would practically be his death warrant.

"After Blaine what? I believe the republican nomination will go to Mr. Harrison by default. The nomination will thus pass from Mr. Blaine, the strongest man in his party, who cannot take it, to Mr. Harrison, who is generally acknowledged the weakest man in his party.

Speaking about the candidates on the democratic ticket, Col. McClure said: "There will be no war between the friends of Cleveland and Pattison in Pennsylvania. Pattison's friends will probably control the Pennsylvania delegation to the democratic national convention, but they are also Cleveland's friends.

"Mr. Pattison is one of the few democrats eligible for the presidential nomination whose head has not been turned by it. He realizes that the result of the recent election in Pennsylvania has practically taken him out of the field. The fact that he has not been carried away by the ambition to achieve the presidency, which has swamped so many public men, is a great tribute to his common sense and level head. Gov. Pattison will throw all his influence to nominate Cleveland next year.

"Do I think Mr. Cleveland will be the democratic nominee? Much will depend upon New York. The overwhelming desire of the democracy of the country is in favor of Cleveland. People say here that Gov. Hill has a tight grip on the New York machine, and will control the delegates from this state.

"I do not apprehend that the democratic convention will nominate Mr. Cleveland over the head of New York. Mr. Cleveland, in my judgment, will not be nominated if the New York delegation is a unit for Hill; but Hill's nomination will not follow in that event. It would result in the nomination of some man outside of this state. The question is, will the New York delegates, even if they go to the convention for Hill, be able to resist the pressure from other states for Cleveland?

"At the democratic state convention in Pennsylvania a year ago a majority of the delegates were Wallace men, but when the time arrived to make a nomination they voted for Pattison. They were forced to do it by pressure from their constituents, and the feeling that Pattison was the only man that could be elected.

"The situation will be similar at the democratic convention next year. Public sentiment, I believe, will dictate the nomination of Cleveland. Should a compromise candidate be necessary, however, Pattison has many points of availability. Pattison has had a remarkable career politically. He has never been beaten. He has carried the republican city of Philadelphia twice for comptroller and the state twice for governor. Mr. Pattison would give Mr. Harrison all that he could do to carry Pennsylvania.

"If Pattison and Harrison should be the opposing candidates, Pennsylvania would be a debatable state."

PICKED UP AT SEA.

Rough Passage of the Steamer Kansas.

She Weathered the Gale Until Her Shaft Snapped, When She Became a Helpless Hulk.

New York, Dec. 14.—Thirty-seven passengers taken in mid-ocean from the disabled steamship Kansas, arrived here yesterday on the Inman line steamer City of Chicago and were sent to Boston.

The Kansas is a big freighter plying between Boston and Liverpool and occasionally carrying passengers. She left Liverpool for Boston November 28th. She encountered stormy weather from the start until December 3, when a fearful gale was blowing, and the vessel's engines were slowed down.

The gale raged throughout the night but abated considerably on the following day. There was a heavy swell on and suddenly, while rolling in the trough of the sea, the shaft snapped in two.

At the time the Kansas was about six hundred miles from Cape Clear. She drifted about helplessly in the track of the ocean travel. Next day the steamship St. Fillans was sighted. She was spoken, but signaled that she did not have accommodations for the passengers of the disabled steamer. As there was no immediate danger the St. Fillans passed on.

On Sunday the City of Chicago was sighted on her way to Liverpool. She hove to about a mile away and consented to take the passengers of the Kansas. The transfer was made by means of the life boats of the Kansas. It took an hour and a half to complete the transfer, but it was done without the slightest hitch or accident of any kind.

Yesterday a cable dispatch was received stating that the disabled steamer had been picked up and towed by the German steamship Wandraham, which left Boston, Nov. 20 for Hamburg, but had been lost again by the hawser parting.

THE WAY TO GO.

You have seen California frequently mentioned in newspapers and magazines. Perhaps a friend has been there and writes enthusiastic letters back home about the climate and the fruits. It makes you anxious to see the country for yourself.

The time to go is in the fall and winter. Then work here is least pressing and California climate is most pleasing. The way to go is via Santa Fe route, on one of that line's popular, personally-conducted parties, leaving Chicago every Saturday evening and leaving Kansas City every Sunday morning.

Special agents and porters in attendance. Pullman tourist sleepers are used, furnished with bedding, mattresses, toilet articles, etc. Second-class tickets honored. Write to Geo. E. Gilman, Michigan Passenger Agent Santa Fe route, for folder describing these excursions.

The Word Contest of Toledo Protestant Hospital.

The ladies of Toledo Protestant Hospital have arranged a word contest, the proceeds of which are to go towards the hospital fund. The above prize will be given to the person who sends in the greatest number of words made from the letters contained in the words "THE TOLEDO HOSPITAL," subject to the following rules:

1. All words must be arranged alphabetically and numbered.
2. Only such words as are found and defined in the vocabulary of Webster's dictionary, including editions of 1847 and later, excluding the appendix, will be accepted.
3. No letter can be repeated in any word oftener than it is found in the words, "The Toledo Hospital."
4. Words spelled the same are counted but once, no matter how different the meaning.
5. Words spelled differently having the same meaning count as separate words.
6. No plural words allowed.
7. Lists containing ten or more errors will be rejected.
8. All lists must be sent in before February 1, 1892, together with 50 cents in money, postal note or money order, no stamps taken, and the full address of the sender.

Send lists to "Word Contest Committee." P. O. Box A 59, Toledo, Ohio.
